JAPS SAY AMERICA'S ANSWER TO PROTEST IS UNSATISFACTORY

Disappointment Felt Because Reply Says That California Legislation Does Not Involve Treaty Violation

RESULT OF REFERENDUM IS DOUBTED IN TOKIO

Ambassador Chinda Is Urged to Press the Japanese Interpretation of the Treaty in Washington

(By Associated Press.)

TOKIO, May 22.—The United States' reply to the Japanese protest in regard to the Californian alien land ownership legislation in saying that it does not involve any violation of the treaty between the United States and Japan, has caused great disappointment in official and other circles here.

The Japanese foreign office considers it unsatisfactory, as it does not mention any intention on the part of the government at Washington to take official steps to nullify the California act.

The Japanese foreign minister is urging upon Viscount Chinda, Japanese ambassador at Washington, the necessity of pressing the Japanese interpretation of the American-Japanese treaty.

Secretary Bryan's proposal to refer the question to a referendum in the state of California is not received with favor here, as the result is considered doubtful.

The war talk, emanating from Europe and reaching here by cable, regarding the controversy between Japan and the United States on the land ownership question, is not understood in official and other circles here. The atmosphere is calm and great reserve is shown.

Some of the newspapers, however, have begun to speak out more freely. The leading daily newspaper, the Osaka Mainichi, finds amusement in what it calls the American fear of Japanese aggression. It says, "All Japan wants for the Japanese is equal treatment with white men. Japan's progress has reached the point where she will no longer consent to discrimination being shown against her subjects."

The general hope is expressed here that the reply sent from Washington is not America's final word, especially as the United States government by its intervention in California, inspired the belief here that it would adopt strong measures in behalf of the Japanese.

DIPLOMACY.

It is believed in Japan that the difficulty will eventually be settled by diplomacy, but the question of how Japan is to proceed next is a puzzle to the authorities. Japan is a stranger to the technicalities of diplomacy, and does not see her way clear to take the initiative in a lawsuit, while a national patriotism prevents a formal request that naturalization be granted, which would mean the virtual expatriation of Japan subjects. Public opinion, however, seems to be in favor of a demand for naturalization as the most feasible means of satisfying Japanese prestige.

The opinion in official circles is that the nation has been led to expect some action by Washington, and if nothing should be done from that quarter, then the Japanese public, which has remained calm and dignified, is liable to become greatly irritated.

Foreigners say that the Japanese are supersensitive and superproud," said an official today. "This may be true. We don't care for the material losses incurred. The present issue strikes us on our most vulnerable point, namely, our national honor, and any attack on that is like plunging a dagger into our vitals.

"Of course it is idle to talk of war, but I think, in justice to the Japanese, it should be pointed out that the quiet expectancy of the people is more important than the irresponsible war talk indulged in by the lingo-mast month.

"If the Americans understand this they will likewise understand why the failure of a response to the Japanese appeal is likely to result in some estrangement of the traditional friendship between the United States and Japan."

Cabinet Lawyers Say Treaty Is Not Violated

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The basis of the state department's contention that the California alien land act does not in terms violate the treaty of 1911 was a careful scrutiny by all the lawyers of the cabinet of the language of the law and the treaty.

Save upon the single point that in depriving Japanese of California the right to inheritance of real estate, they concluded there was no ground for complaint.

Another view of the expressed declaration in the Webb law that it was not to be construed as abrogating may treaty provision, which thereby appeared to assure the Japanese against unlawful escheatment of their property, it was felt that the national government could do nothing less than admit that the framers of the Webb act seemed to have succeeded in their purpose to make it proof against attacks in the courts.

Officials gather from the Tokio dispatches that the negotiations are drifting into the state of pure diplomacy, where the international lawyers on both sides will have ample opportunity to exercise the full resources in determining the exact relation between the California law and the treaty of 1911. Some expect that the result will be an invocation by the Japanese government of the right of arbitration guaranteed by the special treaty of 1908.

DYNAMITE PLANTER OFFERED $7,000 BY MILL MAN'S AGENT

John J. Breen, Undertaker Who Confessed to Planting Dynamite Among Laborers During Strike, Tells More

MILL OWNER'S LAWYER MADE OFFER, HE SAYS

Testimony Strongly Implicates Fred E. Atteaux, Dyer Manufacturer, but Has Not Yet Involved Head of Big Mill

(By Associated Press.)

BOSTON, May 22.—John J. Breen, the undertaker who has confessed that he distributed dynamite at Lawrence during the textile strike of 1912, was ready to continue his testimony under cross-examination when the trial of President William Wood, of the American Woolen company, Fred E. Atteaux and Dennis J. Collins, charged with conspiracy to "plant" the explosive, was resumed today.

Breen's testimony today was awaited with great interest, principally because of his declaration just before adjournment yesterday that he refused several months ago to accept an offer of $7,000 made by the attorney conducting the cross-examination, Daniel H. Coakley, senior counsel for Mr. Atteaux.

Breen said he had been engaged by Atteaux to plant the dynamite and that later he had been sued by a number of persons who were arrested when the explosive was found on their premises.

He had sought financial assistance from Atteaux to settle the cases, he said, but because of the conditions imposed he had refused the offer.

Up to the opening of today's session none of the testimony had connected Mr. Wood with the alleged conspiracy.

PURPOSE OF PLANT.

The alleged purpose in "planting" the explosive was to create suspicion that the strikers blew up the mills.

Before the cross-examination of Breen was resumed today Collins was recalled to testify to a conversation with Breen after the latter's conviction. The witness could not remember what Breen had said, "I'll have to get back at those people because they gave me a raw deal."

He then took the stand and was questioned regarding a telephone conversation with Police Inspector Rooney, of Boston, on the night of January 19. He said that when he told the inspector not to come to Lawrence until the next morning it was not because he had not finished "planting" the dynamite.

References were made to the suits for damages brought against Breen by those who had been arrested after the dynamite had been found on their premises. The witness could not recall that he had agreed with the attorney for two of the plaintiffs to meet him in a cash settlement of each of the parties of $300 on June 17. Nor could he remember having postponed the promised payments successively to July 1, July 5 and July 11.

"Did you say to Atteaux when you came to him for the $5,000 on July 13, that your trial had bankrupted you," asked Mr. Cookley.

"I don't remember. I may have," replied the witness. He denied that he had said to Atteaux, "If you asked Mr. Wood, don't you think he would help me out?" and that Atteaux replied: "I would as soon think of taking Mr. Wood by the throat as of mixing him up in such a nasty mess as this."

Referring to telephone conversations between Atteaux and himself, Breen said he could not recall one during which he said to Atteaux:

"There's going to be an explosion one of these days," and to which Atteaux replied: "I hope it won't be of dynamite," and hung up the receiver.

The witness denied emphatically having said to Atteaux over the telephone on another occasion: "I wonder how your rich friend would like to have the labor men know about this."

Breen said that Atteaux finally referred him to William B. Watts, a former chief inspector of the Boston police and now the head of a private detective agency of Watts, in turn, sent him to Attorney Cookley.

MRS. FLAGLER OPPOSES PUBLIC MOURNING

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., May 22.—Mrs. Flagler this morning, at St. Augustine, requested that no mourning decorations be placed on any of the public buildings and that all signs of mourning as far as possible be omitted. Her wishes will be carried out.

The mayor of Jacksonville this morning issued a proclamation asking that all business cease for a period of five minutes beginning at 3 o'clock, in honor of the memory of Mr. Flagler.

The postmaster general has ordered the St. Augustine post office closed for an hour. Governor Trammell is expected to issue a like proclamation this afternoon.

DRAMATIC MOMENT IN U. S. ASSEMBLY AS ONE WITHDRAWS

Dr. W. M. McPheeters, of Columbia Theological Seminary Faculty, Quits as Protest Against "Steam Roller"

FEDERAL COUNCIL ROW REPORT LEADS TO THIS

In Consequence, Assembly Defers Vote on Majority Report to Which Retiring Commissioner Objected

An attack on the general assembly of the Southern Presbyterian church in which the innovation of a political "steam roller" was charged by Dr. W. M. McPheeters, of the Columbia Theological seminary, of Columbia, S. C., following the adoption of the majority report of the committee on foreign correspondence recommending that the church remain in the federal council of the churches of Christ in America, created a sensation in the Thursday morning session of the Presbyterians in the United States, at the North Avenue Presbyterian church, and resulted in Dr. McPheeters withdrawing from the assembly.

The crisis of the dissension in the conference, which became manifest last Tuesday morning, when the two reports were read, came immediately upon the announcement of the rising vote of 158 to 27 in favor of the report of the majority.

Dr. McPheeters arose at that juncture to offer an amendment to the majority report docketed as an amendment to the minority. He was called to order by Moderator Lyons on the ground that the assembly had previously voted to have both measures come up in the order named. It had been agreed that the minority report, if rejected, be immediately followed by the majority report, and on its passage the question of remaining in the council would be settled once for all.

DECLINED TO APPEAL THERE.

Dr. Lyons told the speaker that he had the right to appeal from the moderator's decision. This he declined to do. "I do not avail myself of the opportunity you offer in this assembly," Dr. McPheeters said. From another part of the house, however, the appeal was made and as promptly voted down.

The first vote on the majority report was viva voce and seemed almost unanimous, but Dr. T. S. Lowry, of Memphis, who presented the minority report, called for a divison. He was standing on the rostrum with the moderator at the time.

"If you have the temerity to ask it," said Dr. Lyons, "the request will be granted cheerfully."

"I certainly have," replied Dr. Lowry and the rising vote was called for.

Dr. McPheeters was again on the floor attempting to speak, gesticulating for a hearing.

"Just a moment," cried the moderator, bringing his gavel down on the pulpit. "I claim the right to state my position, and then you may have the privilege of speaking. As a French-Scotch-Irisman, I think that I have done well in presiding over this assembly with absolute impartiality. We have carried out the order of balloting as already decided upon."

Here Dr. McPheeters was granted the floor. He arose slowly and faced the assembly. His words at first were scarcely audible beyond the fourth row of pews, and cries of "louder" were heard.

DR. M'PHEETER WITHDRAWS.

"I do not wish to act hastily in a grave matter," he said. "I am here to represent my phebytery."

His voice was now almost a whisper, but there were no more cries of louder. Every one leaned forward expectantly.

"I do not care to say aloud such things as this in the church," continued Dr. McPheeters, "that is why my voice is so low. A regular political steam roller has gotten in its work and the action has been unconstitutional."

Moderator Lyons here silenced him. "You are out of order," he said, "and casting reflections on the chair. The moderator cannot recognize you."

Approaching the rostrum, Dr. McPheeters handed the report of the committee on education, of which he is chairman, to the chair. Then addressing himself to Dr. Lyons, said:

"You paid me the honor of appointing me chairman of this committee, and I a mturning it over to the clerk to present to you at the proper time. I wish to retire as chairman of the committee on education, and also to retire from this assembly. At the proper time I shall make such a report as I see fit to the presbytery I represent."

LEFT IN SILENCE

The profound silence was almost a demonstration. Dr. McPheeters passed

A WORD TO THE WISE

FEARS ARE FELT FOR SAFETY OF CZAR AT BIG ROYAL WEDDING

Emperor Nicholas, of Russia, Arrives in Berlin in Russian Imperial Armored Train and Is Closely Guarded

(By Associated Press.)

BERLIN, May 22.—Emperor Nicholas of Russia arrived here this morning to attend the marriage of Princess Victoria Luise, only daughter of the Emperor William, to Prince Ernest August of Cumberland.

The Russian emperor was met at the station by Emperor William and King George of England and a great gathering of members of the various royal families. The Russian emperor drove with his imperial host in state to the castle. The wedding takes place on Saturday.

Arrangements made by the Berlin police for the protection of his majesty were very comprehensive. The police were assisted by a considerable force of Russian detectives.

Inhabitants of Berlin whose passion for spectacles is well known, were today able to obtain full gratification of their desires in that respect. The crowds were even greater than those of yesterday. People packed sidewalks, windows, balconies and roofs, whence they had an almost constant view of passing and repassing royal processions from 8 in the morning until after noon.

Very early in the day the dowager duchess of Baden, the emperor's aunt and the senior living member of the royal family of Prussia, arrived.

She was followed shortly afterward by the duke and duchess of Cumberland.

On each occasion Emperor William, the empress, Prince Ernest August, of Cumberland and his bride-to-be, the Princess Victoria Luise, together with a large contingent of Hohenzollern princes and princesses, drove to the station to escort the arriving guests to the castle.

All the processions followed the same route from the Anhalt terminus through Koeniggratz street and the Avenue of Victory and along Unter Der Linden to the castle.

EMPEROR IS LATE.

At the arrival of the venerable duchess of Baden, Emperor William—always a model of punctuality—was late, probably for the first time in his life, and the spectators on the station platform were treated to the spectacle of his majesty in a hasty run endeavoring to reach the halting place of the railway car before his aunt stepped out. He lost the race.

Besides the principal guests, a swarm of minor princes and princesses arrived at the other stations of Berlin, each adding a flash of bright color to the streets while passing to where they are to be lodged during the wedding festivities.

The throngs o nthe streets were good naturedly enthusiastic in their demonstrations and there was an almost constant roll of cheering throughout the day. The weather was again fine.

The police handled the crowds with suavity and skill.

None of the ladies of the imperial and royal families participated in the welcome to Emperor Nicholas at the station, since he was not accompanied by the Russian empress. The scene, however, gained in magnificence, owing to the presence of King George and his suite with the striking white wool caps of the Russian emperor's attendants and the vari-colored robes of several Russian priests.

The great terminus had been cleared of people an hour before the arrival of the Russian emperor's train, and

COMMISSIONERS WILL BE GLAD TO GET BACK TO HARD WORK AS A RELIEF FROM ASSEMBLIES

No "Relaxation" in Strenuous Duties Visiting Presbyterians Have Been Performing, Says Mr. Ellis—More Sharp Words Passed Than Usual—Pitiable to Tired Hostesses

By William T. Ellis

THE end of the general assemblies of the Presbyterian churches is in sight. The United Presbyterian body adjourns on Thursday afternoon, and the two larger assemblies hope to finish up by Friday evening, although they have a mass of important matter on the docket. So grave are the issues still before the assemblies that the attendance keeps up to its early levels, although more than one commissioner is ready to go back to the hardest kind of hard work as a relief from this experience, which he thought would be a relaxation. The strain has been heavy, especially in the Northern assembly. Ordinarily the last day in the Northern assembly is a day when odds and ends of business are transacted and when interested parties put through a careless assembly the projects in which they have a special interest.

U. S. A. TO MEET IN CHICAGO.

The Southern assembly already has chosen Kansas City as its next meeting place, while the United Presbyterians go to Newcastle, Pa. The Church in the U. S. A. will meet next May probably in the great new building in Chicago erected by Dr. Stone's congregation.

Thursday found the assembly in the North Avenue church still battling over the question of relationship with the federal council. This issue is analogous to the Union seminary question in the Northern church. The commissioners are torn by two desires. They are determined to stand for the church's historic orthodoxy; at the same time they wish, and never more ardently than at Atlanta, for the closest cooperation with the churches of other names. The present outlook is for a compromise that will effect both the desired ends.

Dubbed a "board of bishops" and emasculated by last year's general assembly at Bristol, the committee on systematic beneficence has been restored by the U. S. church. This is the business efficiency committee which recommends the appointment and in a sense supervises the work of all the salaried employes of the denomination.

TABERNACLE GROWS LIVELIER.

Over in the Tabernacle, the scenes grow livelier, if possible, as the assembly draws to an end. The question of a reconsideration of the report of the executive commission which ordered the abolition of the country life department, will be acted upon again. Yesterday the commission made a verbal explanation that it really did not means the drastic and peremptory elimination of the rural work, but left matter discretionary with the board. So it seems as if the Jonah has yet to find a whale to bear him safe to shore.

The home mission board is emerging with flying colors. Every lover of great oratory and of intellectual battles would have been delighted with the splendid spectacle presented by the representatives of the board when they arose to champion their cause before the assembly. They made no apologies or excuses. Without yielding an inch, they set forth the work of the board. Two secretaries spoke.

VICTORY OVER CRITICS.

Ernest McAfee, young, lithe, subtle, was a Damascus blade whose incisive sentences clove a way to triumph for his board. His eulogy of his associates, and especially of the senior secretary, Dr. C. L. Thompson, was brilliant, and in stereotyped phrase, "brought down the house." When the well known figure of the veteran secretary, himself an ex-moderator, advanced to the floor, he was greeted with prolonged applause and the assembly rose to its feet in ovation. With noble eloquence that proved him a master of public assemblage, Dr. Thompson addressed the commissioners for twelve minutes. In that brief time he played upon all the strings of the harp of the human heart. It was a sublime exhibition, and it destroyed the last chances of the critics of the board to win the favor of the assembly.

The way for all this was prepared by an able and sympathetic report by Rev. Dr. Maitland Alexander, of Pittsburg, chairman of the assembly's standing committee on the board.

There are a great many Atlanta folk who are enjoying the oratory of the assemblies and slipping away when routine lifts its sober head.

SHARP WORDS PLENTIFUL.

The clash of arms and the spark of conflict enliven the proceedings for the outsiders especially in the Tabernacle meetings. There have been more sharp words spoken at this assembly than one commonly hears in a gathering of this sort.

Not alone in the meetings are the local residents coming in contact with the assembly. Some thousands have tested the spirit and purpose of the great gathering in the noonday theater meetings which are held at the Grand and in the four daily street meetings at different sections. Last night an automobile escorting party carried evangelists over the city, making addresses at points en route.

The entertainment of the assembly has been an experiment in democracy. Atlanta's weary hostesses, who will surely need vacations by the end of this week, seem not to lag in their hospitality, and scores of social functions are crowded in between sessions.

HAS BROUGHT MANY TOGETHER.

This meeting has brought into some of Atlanta's finest homes the commissioners from rural parts, and people who never would have come into close relationship are learning to know one another in the intimacy of guest and host, which is a leavery for democracy.

Besides all of the soldiers are an everyday occurrence in connection with the assembly.

The "big day," to use a camp meeting phrase, of the U. S. A. assembly is that devoted to foreign missions, which is Thursday. This has brought a great many additional visitors to the city, and the missionary women throng to the galleries of the Tabernacle. The foreign session is commonly considered the most uplifting of the whole series of meetings. In the southland especially, interest in this largest of American foreign enterprises is keen. One secures in tabloid form an impression of the far-flung ministry of American Christendom. The principal speaker of the northern assembly upon this theme was Rev. A. W. Halsey, secretary of the foreign board, who is a classmate of President Wilson. The president's pastor, Rev. Sylvester Page, of Princeton, is one of the visitors who has come to Atlanta to attend this session.

LOFTY MOUNTAIN PEAK BLASTED TO FRAGMENTS

(By Associated Press.)

CHAMBERY, France, May 22.—Military engineers blasted into fragments today the loose peak of a mountain—350,000 cubic feet of rock—which had threatened to fall and destroy the village of Tormery. The village had been in danger from a slide ever since its foundation as a cluster of huts in the middle ages.

PHAGAN CASE WILL GO TO GRAND JURY AT 10 A. M. FRIDAY

Names of Leo M. Frank and the Negro, Newt Lee, to Be Presented by State as the Accused

DORSEY TO CONCENTRATE EFFORT AGAINST FORMER

Improbable That Evidence Favorable to Mr. Frank Will Be Attempted—Experts Ready on Various Phases

The Phagan investigation will go to the grand jury on Friday and the state will use every effort to introduce sufficient evidence against the two suspects ordered held by the coroner's jury to secure true bills.

Solicitor General Dorsey announced late Thursday that there had been no development which would change his plan to present the case to the twenty-three grand jurors on Friday. The names of both Leo M. Frank, superintendent of the National Pencil factory, and Newt Lee, negro nightwatchman, will be presented the jury, but it is said that the state will concentrate its evidence in an effort to secure a true bill against the factory superintendent.

WILL WITHHOLD EVIDENCE.

As to whether his expert testimony by physicians and by finger print, handwriting and blood specialists would be introduced before the grand jury, Mr. Dorsey would make no statement.

It is said, however, that the state will withhold all evidence possible without jeopardizing its chances of securing a true bill.

The grand jury session to take up the famous case has been called for 10 o'clock Friday morning, and a small army of deputy sheriffs and attaches of the solicitor's office will be used Thursday in subpenaing the numerous witnesses in the case.

Considerable of the irrelevant testimony given at the coroner's inquest will be eliminated at the grand jury hearing, as Solicitor Dorsey is very familiar with the testimony of practically every witness, and only the necessary questions will be asked.

Despite the familiarity of the officials with the case, it is very probable, however, that the hearing will consume both Friday and Saturday and possibly it will be adjourned into next week.

EVIDENCE FOR ACCUSED.

The law on the question of admitting testimony in favor of the defense or accused, should the grand jury desire it, is very hazy, but it is certain that the efforts of any of the jurors or attorneys for Mr. Frank to bring in any evidence except that of the state, will be combated.

The supreme court is quoted as holding that even if the solicitor is willing, no evidence for the defense can be introduced before the grand jury, but the decisions referred to say nothing about the admission of special testimony on the request of the jury.

However, it is considered improbable that any effort will be made to introduce testimony which will be ruled out, as a grand jury indictment is simply an accusation.

It requires the vote of twelve grand jurors to secure a true bill. A session of the jury is legal if there are as many as eighteen of the twenty-three jurors present.

While it is said that the work of finger print experts is considered of great importance to the state, Solicitor Dorsey is authority for the statement that it has not changed the aspect of the state's case.

EXPERTS TO TESIFL

Neither Solicitor General Hugh M. Dorsey nor P. A. Flak, the New York finger print expert, will discuss the result of their work on Wednesday, but it is said to be certain that either Mr. Flak or L. J. Fletcher, finger print experts at the Federal prison, will be one of the witnesses if either of the two men ordered held by the coroner's jury is brought to trial on a charge of causing Mary Phagan's death.

Mr. Flak was formerly in the British service in India, and has made a life

WALKER YIELDS TO DEATH AFTER BATTLE OF WEEK

Indomitable Courage Is Snuffed by Persistency of Dread Poison

SIOUX CITY MAN TAKES DRUG AS WALKER DID AND NOW AWAITS DEATH.

SIOUX CITY, Iowa, May 22.—After swallowing three bichloride of mercury tablets last night, Robert Palmer, member of a wealthy family of Sioux City, today is waiting slow death from the poison.

Palmer was in a hotel when he took the tablets. He rushed into the street shouting, "I've done it! I've done it!"

A policeman overpowered him and he was sent to a hospital where it was reported that Palmer was resigned to his fate.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

MACON, Ga., May 22.—The heroic, but futile, fight of B. Sanders Walker, Jr., against death has been ended.

With his indomitable courage snuffed by dread coma, the young Macon banker and real estate dealer, who swallowed a tablet of bichloride of mercury through mistake one week ago today, died at his High street home Thursday morning at 1:35 o'clock. He lapsed into a state of coma late yesterday and did not regain consciousness up until the end came. Members of his family were around his bedside when he breathed his last.

INTERMENT IN MONROE.

The body will be prepared for burial here and the interment made in Monroe, Ga., some time Friday. His widow, who was formerly Miss Marie Stevens, daughter of W. C. Stevens, and one son survive him, in addition to a brother, Cliff Walker, of Macon, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. Sanders Walker, Sr., of Monroe.

He was among the largest real estate owners in Macon, and was prominent here both in business and social circles. He came to Macon in 1907 as cashier of "the Citizens' National bank, but later resigned that position to enter the real estate business.

MADE GAME FIGHT.

Displaying in his few last conscious moments the same indomitable courage which has characterized his week's fight with death from poisoning, B. Sanders Walker, battled bravely to the end.

Struggling for life since last Wednesday when he took a bichloride of mercury tablet by mistake, the young banker late Wednesday lapsed into unconsciousness for the first time. Until just before the end, he regained consciousness only at brief intervals.

Wednesday night the attending physicians said they had exhausted every method of treatment known to medical science in their efforts to stay the hand of death.

The last official bulletin gave the pulse as 120, his respiration 30 and his temperature normal. At 9 o'clock Wednesday morning Walker's pulse was 126, his respiration 31 and his temperature normal.

WORLD WATCHED FIGHT.

Interest of specialists and the public generally throughout the country was aroused by the fortitude with which the young banker has combated the slow but steady work of the deadly poison. Countless messages conveying sympathy and suggesting methods of treatment have flooded the Walker home.

Despite assurances of the certainty of death as a result of his paralyzed organs, Walker's belief that he would recover was not shaken at a late hour. Repeatedly Wednesday he sought to comfort his wife, struggling bravely to bear up under the trying ordeal.

The young banker also displayed keen interest in the conferences held by his physicians and begged his nurse to tell him exactly what conclusions they had reached.

Walker frequently requested, until he became intermittently unconscious, to be permitted to talk with his relatives, practically all of his immediate family having been summoned to the patient's home when he became ill.

Efforts to ascertain the exact treatment Walker was given have been unavailing. The physicians declined to discuss the subject at all. It is understood, however, that they have been in close communication with physicians at the Johns Hopkins hospital in Baltimore.

Palmer, who is a cattle salesman, took the bichloride of mercury tablets with suicidal intent. He is still in a critical condition today, but doctors hold out some hopes for recovery because antidotes were quickly given and the contents of his stomach pumped out. Palmer was an athlete.

Catalpa Pilot Dead

(By Associated Press.)

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., May 22.—Captain George S. Anthony, who, as commander of the bark Catalpa, rescued six Fenian prisoners from a British penal colony in Australia in 1876, died today, aged seventy years. The Catalpa sailed ostensibly for a whaling voyage, and after cruising about for several months, made a dash for the Australian coast, took the prisoners on board and carried them to New York.

Murder of Little Grace Johnston Baffles Police

(By Associated Press.)

PITTSBURG, May 22.—Although the police have five men under arrest in connection with the murder of Grace Johnston, a school girl, on Monday, near Blackburn, the detectives and state constabulary continue the search for the guilty party.

Two important clews have been unearthed. On Sunday, it was said, a strange man stopped two girls in the town of Pitcairn, Pa., near the scene of the murder. He endeavored to induce the children to go into the woods.

The girls refused to accompany him. Marie Antonio, a child who was ill, happened to see the stranger approach the girls and yelled at him from an open window. The child's mother rushed into the room and Marie informed her of what had taken place. On Monday the child died, supposedly from the shock.

The police have description of the stranger and efforts are being made to find him.

Another clew comes from Turtle Creek. Several women and children yesterday notified the state constabulary that they had seen a man Tuesday loitering on a hillside near the town. According to their story the face of the stranger was scratched and cut.

Three men arrested yesterday are being held in the Wilmerding lockup. The names they give following:

William D. Arnold, of New York; Albert Levin, of Buffalo, and Albert Turner, of Chillicothe, Ohio.

Two other men were arrested at Trafford Tuesday. The police refused to divulge their names.

DRAINAGE ENTHUSIASTS CALL ON THE PRESIDENT

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Thirty-three states, with a population of approximately 75,000,000, comprising more than 75 per cent of continental United States, are represented at a meeting of the general educational committee of the national drainage congress here today.

The committee arranged to present to President Wilson resolutions adopted at the third national drainage congress at St. Louis in April, which take the form of a petition for the creation of a federal department of public works and the adoption of a national policy of flood protection and swamp land reclamation, in co-operation with states, municipalities and land owners. After calling at the White House, the committee had an engagement with Secretary Garrison.

Tomorrow Speaker Clark, Vice President Marshall and Secretaries Houston and Lane will receive the visitors.

HARDWICK IS CONGRESS' AUTHORITY ON SUGAR

Philadelphia North American Pays Editorial Tribute to Georgian's Knowledge

BY RALPH SMITH.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 22.—"One speech in the tariff debate, that of Representative Hardwick, of Georgia, on the sugar schedule, is likely to stand out in the whole tariff discussion as revealing more accurate knowledge of the subject than any other in the present tariff controversy."

The above is taken from the Philadelphia North American. It reflects the opinion not only of the man who wrote it, but also the opinion of scores of persons who heard Congressman Hardwick's speech on the sugar schedule of the tariff bill.

It is well known in Washington that the Georgian is, in fact, the father of free sugar. It was due almost entirely to the activity and influence of Mr. Hardwick that the Democratic house of the last session of congress was committed to free sugar. The ways and means committee at that time was disposed to give the sugar interests a small measure of protection, but on the showing of Mr. Hardwick the commodity was finally placed on the free list.

When President Wilson began his study of the tariff question, he relied upon Mr. Hardwick for a large part of his inormation and advice concerning the sugar schedule. The Georgian made a strong showing for free sugar, and the president was at first inclined to insist upon free listing this commodity immediately. Subsequently, however, he accepted the compromise, which provided for free sugar at the end of three years.

No schedule of the tariff bill was so vigorously assailed in the house as was the free sugar provision. Leader Underwood called upon Mr. Hardwick to defend this feature of the bill. How well he discharged this commission is indicated by the above expression from the Philadelphia North American.

SUGAR TRUST PROBE.

Mr. Hardwick's knowledge of the sugar industry dates back to the congressional investigation of the sugar trust by special committee of the house. He was chairman of this committee and for months studied the sugar industry from every angle. This study convinced him that sugar should be on the free list.

In his speech, Mr. Hardwick denied that the reduction of the tariff on sugar will destroy the beet sugar industry in this country. It will compel that industry to maintain itself legitimately and prevent it from paying dividends upon fictitious capitalization by maintaining unlawful agreements with the sugar trust both in the matter of price and the division of territory in which its products can be sold.

The tariff had unquestionably built up the sugar trust and enabled it to obtain control of the sugar business in the United States, including the production of beet sugar. Only by making competition possible could this control be broken, and the reduction of duty on raw and refined sugar would establish competitive condition certain to disestablish the control of prices by the trust.

Mr. Hardwick conceded that probably some beet sugar capitalization and industries maintained thus far by high tariff rates and by special selling arrangements, would be forced out of business, but he denied that the lowering of the tariff would make beet sugar production impossible.

The industry would still have great natural advantages over that abroad. Most of the beet sugar produced in the country is produced in the interior. It has, therefore, the benefit of the domination of the trust, an advantage in transportation facilities.

It has the benefit of the same territory where it is manufactured and need pay no heavy freight rates. Under trust domination, it has been sold only in general markets reached by long rail road hauls, so that natural advantges of location have been entirely eliminated. It has an advantage of soil and, in addition, it will have for the next three years some tariff protection.

Mr. Underwood contends, the industry cannot live without requiring tribute from the consuming public, it must become a question whether it ought to live. In support of his contentions, Mr. Hardwick nad statistics and sworn testimony of sugar producers examined by the investigating committee.

Governor to Umpire Royal Ball Game Of Legislators

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., May 22.—The biggest sporting event of the session of the legislature of 1913 will be the great baseball game on Saturday afternoon of this week between the members of the senate and house of representatives. On last Friday the house challenged the senate to a baseball game, and on the same afternoon the senate accepted their challenge. The house selected Eli Futch, their engrossing clerk, as manager, and Representative Turnbull, of Jefferson county, as captain. The senate selected Senator Malone, of Key West, as manager, and Senator Max M. Brown, of Macleniy, as captain. Mr. Turnbull was formerly one of the best amateur baseball players of Florida, and Senator Brown was a famous college pitcher and ex-leaguer.

The full line-ups have not been made known yet, but Mr. Drane, president of the senate, and Mr. Farris, speaker of the house, will start off as pitchers for their respective teams. A good line of reserve pitchers are to warm up to take their places, when these pitchers weaken, and it is going to be a battle royal to the finish. There is a good deal of rivalry between the two houses, and each declares that the other is to be "shown up."

The umpires who have been selected to officiate and who have agreed to see that the decisions are legal and properly administered, are Governor Trammell and Attorney General West.

The game is to be played for the benefit of the scholarship fund of the Alumni association of the State College for Women, which college is located in Tallahassee. A great crowd is expected to be out to root for their respective promptly at 3:30 Saturday afternoon. favorites. The game will begin

WHAT THE ANSWER BOOK IS

We are in receipt of a letter from a gentleman in St. Petersburg, Fla., asking us to tell him just what the Answer Book is, saying that if it is a book containing the correct answers to the 75 prize pictures he cannot see any use of the Campaign at all.

We hope there are not many of our readers who do not understand just what the Answer Book is and what it means to them to have the Answer Book. For the benefit of those who do not understand we will try to make the matter clear to them.

The Answer Book was arranged to supply the contestants with a convenient method of submitting their answers at the close of the Campaign. There are 150 pages in it, 75 for the prize pictures to be pasted in it and 75 pages for the answers to the prize pictures. The answers to the pictures you will get from The Journal's Official Book catalogue, containing 4,000 book titles, including the 75 used in this Campaign.

Another advantage in having an Answer Book is that you need only one of each picture to submit ten Answers to the picture. If you wanted to submit ten answers to each picture under the old plan it would be necessary to have a picture and coupon for every answer you submitted. To submit 750 answers on that plan would cost you $15.00. With the Answer Book it will only cost Journal readers 50c to submit the full ten Answers to each picture.

If those who do not thoroughly understand the plan will come in or send a request to The Journal we will mail them a four-page circular giving all the necessary information in regard to this wonderful Booklovers' Game.

They claim the amount is not sufficient and purpose to wait until the trustees of the improvement fund receive a report from the special drainage commission, now at work.

A special session is likely to consider the measure. The bill is set as a special order for Monday.

WHITE BLACKS FACE AND BEATS AND ROBS WIDOW

To Lay Crime on Negro White Man Corks His Face Before Robbery

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., May 22.—Mrs. F. P. Osborne, a widow, was beaten up at St. Elmo about 10 o'clock last night by an unknown white man whose face was blacked like that of a negro.

After robbing the woman of $22, in money he choked her, knocked her senseless with his fist and escaped. This is the third outrage of this character in this district in the past two months. One victim, Sam Shelin was killed. Some of the burned cork which rubbed off of the robber's face gave the police the clew that the work was done by a white man.

FLORIDA DETERMINED TO ABOLISH LEASE SYSTEM

House Waives Rules and Passes New Bill on Convict Question to Third Reading

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., May 22.—The fight to abolish the convict lease system in Florida took a new turn today when the house, angered by the way the senate had shredded Governor Trammell's bill, introduced a new bill providing bluntly that the lease should terminate January 1914, and then wanted rules and passed it to its third reading subject to call on the calendar.

The house measure was introduced this morning by Representative Taylor, of Madison and Representative Harry Floyd, of Franklin and Andrews, of Bradford urged its immediate passage. Gorrton, of LaFayette county made a motion to indefinately postpone but later withdrew it.

Governor Trammell drafted and had introduced a bill early in the session providing for a gradual abolition of the lease system. This was accepted by the house but when it reached the senate it was literally torn to shreds and its own author couldn't recognize it. The senate is in favor of a more radical measure and the house leaders believe the new bill providing bluntly for the termination of the lease next January will be more acceptable to the upper branch.

J. C. MOORE HELD ON ATHENS WARRANT

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

ATHENS, Ga., May 22.—A warrant was sworn out here Monday for J. C. Moore, charging him with larceny after trust delegated. Moore cannot be located and for a month past he has not been in Athens.

The warrant charges that Moore, who was a representative of the Mutual Life, of New York, took the application of J. B. Weir, of the normal school section of this city, accepted a check for payment of the policy and later Mr. Weir was notified that he had been turned down by the company's physicians. Moore has left Athens.

In another instance a prominent citizen took a policy for $50,000, paying Moore in a note for a few cents less than $150,000, the policy being for three years, it is said.

In another instance, it is alleged, he either failed to deliver the policies after taking the applications with payment in check or notes, or gave a policy for one year's insurance, collecting for three annual premiums.

SENATE AMENDS FLORIDA CONVICT LEASE BILL

Governor Trammell's Anti-Lease Bill Cannot Be Recognized in Mutilated Form

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., May 22.—The house this morning passed a bill allowing judges of circuit courts $100 each a month for traveling expenses, and passed to its third reading a bill that they be elected instead of appointed.

The governor's convict lease bill took up the entire session of the senate and has been so amended that it would not be known by the author.

Senator Lindsay, who introduced a substitute measure, says he proposes to speak plainly on the final vote. And it is intimated he will attack the governor for attempting to play politics in submitting such a bill. It appears that the Trammell bill will pass in its radically amended form. Senator Lindsay himself says he intends to vote for it, but at the same time says that nothing of the original bill remains except the name of the author—Spencer, of the house.

The reception closes at 8 o'clock to allow the visitors to catch the train for Atlanta, which leaves at 9 o'clock. The active members of the Hussars will act as honorary escort to the train.

A bill to authorize suspension of sentences and to provide for probation officers, will be introduced by Senator M. C. Tarver at this summer's session of the Georgia legislature.

Senator Tarver says he is convinced that this measure will bring about a reform second only to the abolishment of the convict lease system.

Just Before Adjournment the United Presbyterians Passed Very Cordial Resolutions

"Resolved 1. That we, the members of the general assembly of the United Presbyterian church, put on record our deep sense of gratitude to the Christian people of Atlanta for the bounteous hospitality which you have extended to us. We came among you strangers, you opened your homes to us and took us in as cordially as if we had been blood relatives; we have sat with you at the festal board where we have had sweet fellowship in the breaking of bread; we have partaken of your bounty which has exceeded everything we could have hoped for; we have fellowshipped with you in the family circle where we have seen the charm of your wit and your versatility; we have bowed the knee with you at the family altar where together we have communed with God and where we have united our prayers for God's blessing on our assemblies and His kingdom, and for each other's homes and dear ones. Unstintingly you have given us of your valuable time to show us the beauties of your city and its industries. You have done everything it was possible to do to make our sojourn in your city pleasant and profitable, and to make us feel the reality and the bigness of your welcome. Before coming we had heard much of southern hospitality, but now that we have been in your homes we can truly say the half had not been told us.

"The memory of our sojourn in your pleasant city and in your charming homes will remain with us as a sweet memory in all the days to come. We will never forget our visit to Atlanta, and the chiefest thing in our memories will be the splendid hospitality of your homes.

HOTELS ARE PRAISED.

"Those of us, too, who have been entertained in your hotels have only words of praise for the services rendered; from proprietors and all others we have received the most courteous and generous treatment. We feel that they should know our feelings of appreciation. The generosity too, that prompted you to make provision for such free entertainment is hereby gratefully acknowledged."

Thanks were also extended to J. K. Orr, chairman of the general committee, on arrangements, to Rev. Henry H. Dunbar H. Ogden, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church, in which the meetings of the assembly were held, and Dr. Robert M. Russell, the moderator of the assembly.

The resolutions were framed on behalf of the assembly by Dr. D. A. McClenahan and Samuel Young, of Pittsburg.

G. O. P. PREPARES FOR CONGRESSIONAL FIGHT

Republican Senators Confer With Congressmen Over Campaign

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Republican senators at a conference today appointed a committee of five to confer with members of the house o nthe advisability of an early joint caucus to organize a congressional campaign committee, establish headquarters and organize for the coming congressional campaign.

The senators named were Gallinger, Townsend, Norris and Jones and Clark, of Wyoming. The conference was attended by three one senators, among them Senators Cummins, Sherman and Norris, of the Progressive Republicans.

It is believed here and evident that the campaign to elect a Republican congress in 191 should begin at once and that the campaign committee should be composed of representatives and senators, the plan already adopted by the Democrats at the suggestion of President Wilson. The conference also developed the enormous opinion that publicity headquarters should be opened and the campaign committee formed immediately.

It was planned to call the joint caucus next week. Senators who attended said that the meeting was harmonious and that was indicated by the appointment of the conference committee of both old line and progressive senators.

There was discussion of the action of the Democrats in cancelling pairs for executive sessions and it was decided that each Republican senator should take care of his case.

Senators Cummins, Jones and Crawford and Representative Crampton will decide how to lay the action of the Chicago conference before the executive committee.

Gov. Brown Poses as Central Figure in a Photoplay of South

Governor Brown Thursday morning took the role of a moving picture actor. He posed in front of the Gordon monument on Peachtree while a photographer made him a central figure in a photoplay story of the south, which this company is soon to produce. Governor-elect Slaton was also to have been there to pose for the "movies," but he was detained and somebody else had to take his part.

The scene at the Mayor Woodward and Walter Taylor, city clerk, posed in front of Henry Grady's monument, on Marietta street, for another incident in this picture story.

The tale in which such local color as a governor and a mayor is being included begins in the Civil war days, and tells of a meeting afterward of a Union and of a Confederate veteran whom the chances o war had thrown together. They meet here in Atlanta—that is why the Edison company has sent its actors all the way to this city—and here is the climax of the drama, and reels out its most dramatic incidents.

RAILROAD ACCIDENTS DUE TO DEFECTIVE EQUIPMENT

Interstate Commerce Commission Holds Defective Rails and Wheels Responsible

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Defective railroad equipment and tracks were responsible for 68 per cent of derailments in the United States during July, August and September, 1912, and during those three months there were 953 more train accidents, including 901 more collisions and derailments, than there were during the same months of 1911.

All train accidents on steam roads during that time killed 288 and injured 4,598, an increase of 87 in the killed and 318 in the injured during the corresponding period of the year before. These facts are disclosed in the accident bulletin of the interstate commerce commission.

Accidents of other kinds, including those sustained by employes while at work, not including "industrial accidents," make the number of casualties 2,955 killed and 22,447 injured, a total increase of 237 killed and 3,340 injured. The damage to equipment and roadway by the accidents aggregated $3,366,401, a $500 increase.

It was found by the commission that of the derailments 10 per cent were due to broken rails and 31 per cent to defective wheels.

Casualties due to "industrial accidents"—such as are not involved in train operations—amounted to 114 killed and 28,884 injured, a decrease of 17 killed and an increase of 5,234 injured.

GEORGIA FAMILY FEUD RESULTS IN KILLING

Horace Hornage Shot Dead, Father Dying and Jim and Jerry Hart Hurt

The trouble was the culmination of a timber deal between the Harts and J. M. Hornage. Mrs. J. M. Hornage was at the scene of the crime and it is alleged that she fired the shot that killed Horace and wounded Jerry Hart. All of the participants in the affray are well known.

Sailor Fares Homeward on Foot After 28 Years Away

Aaron Manier, 42 Years Old Now, With a Pipe and Whiskers and $300 as His Life's Store, Walks Through Atlanta on Way to See "the Old Folks" Once More

On his way to the home of his boyhood, from which he fled twenty-eight years ago to escape a whipping at the hands of his father, Aaron Manier, who is now forty-two years old, passed through Atlanta Thursday morning. He walked into town and he walked out.

Manier is on a 900-mile walk—from Savannah to Cincinnati. He has done already a third of the distance, and hopes to complete the rest by the Fourth of July. He wants to get back to the Ohio city, which is his home, on that date because it will be the anniversary of his surreptitious departure long ago. During his voluntary exile he hasn't heard from his folks. He doesn't know whether or not his father is living, or his mother. But if they aren't, he is going to hunt for his brothers and sisters, and, if he can't find them, he will just see once again in reality pictures he has harbored in his breast for nearly a score and a half years.

Manier is the oldest runaway boy who ever made his presence known here, so far as records go.

With a briar pipe protruding through a thicket of beard and whiskers, the "runaway" walked up the front steps at the police station just after sun up Thursday morning, and said he wanted to rest a while. To a sympathetic policeman he confided his story.

Later he entertained the same policeman and others with a number of "good stories" of the sea variety that entirely dispelled the pathos that, for the sake of congruity, ought to have accompanied his tale.

Manier was fourteen years old when he left home on July 5, 1885. There was a dispute over some fireworks or chores or something—he doesn't remember exactly what—and Manier, senior, promised Aaron a whipping next morning. Aaron had nundergone a few of his father's whippings in the past and he didn't like the prospects of another. So, like a lot of other lads at that age, he decided to run away and become rich and make papa jealous.

The only difference between Manier and 99 out of 100 of the other boys who decided to run away, was that he actually carried out his plan. That is, insofar as running away goes, he did. He never amassed a very large fortune, though, nor succeeded in making his parent more than anxious, so far as he knows.

Manier went to sea. He never would have got more than ten miles away from Cincinnati, he said, if he hadn't fallen in with three hobos who took him to Boston because they liked his company. In Boston Manier got a job as cabin boy on a boat bound for Cuba. He liked the sea just as he thought he would. When he returned to the United States a few months later he was too proud to write home and after that, when he was in this country, he "just didn't do it."

Manier has been a sailor ever since. "If there's a country on the globe I haven't seen," he exclaimed enthusiastically, at the police station Thursday morning. "I want to know what it is. I've walked 500 miles through the brush in Australia with a sack of rice on my shoulder. I've cut my way up the slopes of the Andes. I've hunted gold in Alaska. Every place looks alike to me—except Cincinnati, and there never will be another town that will look just like that old place."

Manier is walking to save railroad fare, he said. He exhibited six $50 bills which he says he is going to take home in case his father needs some money.

"I can't tell, you know," he said. "The 'old man' might be broke."

It took him three weeks to come from Savannah to Atlanta. He's taking it easy," but expects to reach his final destination by the date set.

"I don't want any 'charity,'" the man remarked. "I've got a few dollars besides the $300 and that will keep me eating on the way."

MRS. TEDDER CONVICTED OF THEFT IN MACON

Woman Was Acquitted of the Charge of Murder in Atlanta Last Year

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

MACON, Ga., May 22.—Mrs. Frances Tedder, of Atlanta, was today found guilty in the superior court of robbing W. T. Kersey, last February, of $175, Judge Hodges, who was presiding this morning, reserved sentece until this afternoon.

Kersey stated that he called on Mrs. Tedder one night in February, and that upon leaving her home, he found his purse and $175 missing. She claimed that it was stolen by a man.

Mrs. Tedder stated that she lived in Atlanta, and was on a visit here at the time she was accused of taking the money from Kersey.

Mrs. Tedder was indicted by the grand jury of the Fulton superior court, charged with the murder of her husband. She was acquitted, however, when the case came to trial in Atlanta.

The Tedder case was similar in many instances to the famous Grace shooting mystery, except that the wounded husband died soon after being shot. Attorneys Moore and Branch, Mrs. Grace's lawyers, handled Mrs. Tedder's case.

HUERTA'S CABINET AT LOGGERHEADS OVER LOAN

(By Associated Press.)

MEXICO CITY, May 22.—Discussion of the remaining articles of the bill authorizing the issue by the Mexican government of a loan of $100,000,000 at 6 per cent, has developed a hitch in the chamber of deputies which may delay completion of the transaction.

The charge was reiterated by many deputies at last night's session that the best offer for the loan had not been accepted by the Mexican government. The assertion was made that the minister for war, General Manuel Mondragon, had negotiated a better offer.

A resolution was adopted to call him to the chamber and ask him for a declaration on the subject. At 10 o'clock last night the deputies declared the chambers in permanent session until the matter had been settled.

Provisional President Huerta had in the meantime sanctioned the acceptance of the offer of a loan by French financiers, which had been agreed to yesterday by the members of the cabinet and also in principle by the deputies.

SHOWERS EXPECTED ON THURSDAY NIGHT

A disturbance over the eastern part of Texas will precipitate rain in this section either Thursday night or Friday, according to the prediction given out at the weather bureau Thursday morning.

It will be cloudy, anyway, for the next twenty-four hours, declared the weather man, a condition which will serve to allay the heat in some respect. The rain probably will be followed by somewhat cooler weather, he says.

SCORES OF SWIMMERS "HIT" PIEDMONT LAKE

Atlanta's Summer Bathing Pond Was Opened Thursday Morning by the City

When the sun peeped over the hills and lighted the glistening waves of Piedmont lake at 5 o'clock Thursday morning, thousands of bathers and spectators who lined the banks gave three long cheers for the opening day of the season.

Before them were the cool waters which had not been disturbed by a "jackknife" dive or a "crawl" stroke since early last fall. As the word was given, swimmer after swimmer ran gingerly to the end of the spring board and plunged into the lake; some of them striking right out of the opposite shore, others coming up with a sputtering gasp, to flop back to the railings and cling there shivering and panting.

But all rose to the top with bright eyes and happy shouts, for there is no better tonic in the world than cold water taken inside or out before breakfast.

By 6 o'clock the lake was alive with men and boys, the inclosure swarmed with the women and the little tots. The dressing rooms were crowded with arriving and departing bathers, the shores were packed with people, anxious mothers who kept wary eyes on little Johnnies and Jennies jumping up and down in the shallow ripples near the shores, fat fathers who shook with laughter every time the resounding slap of a "belly-buster" from the end of the spring-board rang out on the cool morning air.

Outside the inclosure the force of lifesavers patroled the lake in swift boats from end to end. Their eyes were busy, but they were seldom needed, save some swimmer who had be hibernating on Glenn-ville "petered" on his trip from shore to shore and had to cling to the end of the boat until he regained his breath.

It was a different Piedmont lake than it was last year. Improvements on every side had been made, and no possible effort spared to make things more pleasant or convenient.

The railed inclosure for women, children, and amateur swimmers was much bigger than it was last year, and instead of the slimy splintery boards of last season on the bottom, a new one *was made of concrete. The sliding*board has been strengthened and was as popular as of old, if one judges from the number of urchins who plunged down it, screaming joyously.

The water on this, the first day, was purer and cleaner than it has been in many a long time, and, by a special arrangement of pipes, the city hopes to keep it in good condition throughout the season. Water will be kept flowing out of the lake, and scores of new pipes which have been placed around the sides will pour a fresh supply into the lake night and day.

There are twice as many dressing rooms this year as there were in 1912. 444 lockers for men and boys have been installed and over one hundred private dressing rooms for the ladies. Every one of the rooms was crowded Thursday, and continual demands for "more room" were made upon the men in charge which could not be satisfied.

Only a few rules are in force at the lake this year, but these will be enforced strictly. Police protection will be provided at every hour, and "roughhousers" have been promised a free ride to the police station in a dripping bathing suit.

The lake is open to bath seekers from 5 in the morning until sundown on week days. On Sundays both sexes will be admitted from 5 in the morning until 8 o'clock. From 8 to 2 on Sundays the lake will be closed, only boys and men being admitted Sunday afternoons.

No boats will be allowed on the lake, except those of the life-savers. Bathing-suits without sleeves may be worn, but no one-piece suits, and no white or silk suits will be allowed.

FORMER WIFE PURSUES UNDERWOOD FOR ALIMONY

Judgment for Nearly $10,000 Alimony, Court Costs, Etc., Awarded Former Wife

H. C. Underwood, formerly of Kentucky, and now a resident of this city, was named in a judgment in favor of his former wife, Cordelia F. Underwood, for $8,200 alimony and court fees and interest at 6 per cent from June 24, 1911, by a jury in Judge George Bell's court Tuesday. It was in June, 1911, that Mrs. Underwood was awarded the same alimony by a court of chancery in Louisville, but the defendant moved to Atlanta without set*tling his case, only to be pursued by* his former wife, through her attorneys, Green, Tilson & McKinney.

The amount of interest from June 11, 1911, is $926, which, added to the alimony and counsel fees, makes the total amount due the plaintiff nearly $10,000. It is said that the couple have been separated about twenty years, and that the defendant, who lives on Confederate avenue, has married again.

SOCIETY PLAYERS WILL DINE AT COUNTRY CLUB

The members of the Players' club will this year hold their after-theater dinner on the lawn of the Piedmont Driving club, instead of at the Capital City club as formerly. This was decided on at a meeting held directly after the rehearsal Wednesday evening, when the players in the cast of "The Importance of Being in Earnest," had finished their night's work in preparing for the forthcoming play on Friday night, May 30, at the Grand opera house.

It is planned to have one large central table on the terrace of the beautiful country club, around which will be seated the members of the Players' club. Governor-elect Slaton will be one of the guests of the occasion. His wife, Mrs. *John Marshall Slaton, has one of the im*portant roles of the play. Colonel T. B. Felder, whose wife is president of the club, will also be present.

Around the big central table will be arranged smaller tables, which are for the members of the Piedmont Driving club and friends of the young people making up this dramatic feature of Atlanta's social life.

EXPERIMENT STATION NEEDS STATE'S HELP

Georgia has made no appropriation for the support and maintenance of its state experiment station since 1891, says Martin V. Calvin, the retiring director of the station, in his last report to the governor.

Much greater results could have been obtained, the retiring director states, if the legislature had given $5,000 as asked for, but instead the station has been dependent for its maintenance on the appropriations from the government.

Director Calvin states that experiments in dynamiting land have been made at the station this year, and though they have not been extensive enough to enable the authorities to report definite conclusions, he himself believes that time will show that dynamited land will be found to be far more productive than undynamited land.

BOSTON TERRIERS ARE SPECIALTY OF BREEDER

James H. Bozman, who has the Madora kennels at Smyrna, Ga., less than fifteen miles from the city, is the proud owner of "Yankee Doodle Crib," a Boston terrier which has taken over 100 blue ribbons. The dog lacks one point of being what breeders style a prize dog. Mr. Bozman makes Boston terriers his specialty, and in addition to this blue ribbon dog has three other fine ones in "Revlis Price," "Little Squaw" and "Madora." He has altogether about twenty terriers.

AGNES SCOTT COLLEGE GIRLS WILL GRADUATE

Annual Commencement Exercises Began Thursday With Art Exhibit

With the exhibit of the art department Thursday and Friday, the annual commencement exercises of Agnes Scott college are on, not to end until next Wednesday night, when the graduates are given their diplomas.

The academy held its closing exer*cises Wednesday afternoon and night.*

The graduating class of the college this year is one of the largest in its history. The college curriculum is now as high as any woman's school in the country, not excepting Vassar, Wellesley, Smith and the other biz eastern colleges. The senior class includes members from all over the United States.

The art department is one of the fea*tures in the school work. The exhibits* which were shown Thursday would do honor to productions of the institutes of New York and Chicago. Among them were oil paintings, water colors, pastel and pen and ink drawings, all of which showed considerable skill on the part of the students and the careful instruction of capable teachers.

Saturday night there will be a song recital at the college in which nearly the whole school takes part. This will be a separate and distinct feature from the glee club concert Monday night. The latter is always one of the most pleasing events of commencement, and many times has drawn large audiences in its appearance in local theaters. Although it has been decided to hold the concert this year at the college, yet it is certain to attract wide attention.

Sunday morning the baccalaureate sermon will be delivered at the college chapel by Dr. Charles Erdman, of Princeton university, one of the most famous college divines in the United States.

The joint meetings of the two literary societies, Propylaen and Menosmynean, will take place Tuesday night, when the Schontz prize will be awarded. The latter is probably the greatest honor that an Agnes Scott girl can win.

TURNERS' PLAN ALL DAY CELEBRATION OF FOURTH

A grand Fourth of July entertainment is being planned by the entertainment committee of the Atlanta Turn Verein. It will be given for the members and their guests at Germania park.

The committee have determined to make it an all-day event, with refreshments served both at noonday and in the evening, so nobody need worry about going home for supper or any other time until the band strikes up "Home, Sweet Home." The members will be requested to bring well-filled baskets, which will hold plenty both for members of the association and their guests.

Invitations are being sent out by Newman Lazer, chairman of the entertainment committee, to anticipated guests from cities nearby in this state, as well as to several adjoining states.

NOTED RUSSIAN ENGINEER VISITS ATLANTA IN TOUR

P. P. Von Weyrman Here to Inspect Irrigation and Power Plants

P. P. Von Weyrman, a leading engineering authority of the Russian government, is in Atlanta to inspect the work of the geological survey, in special reference to water power, in the south. He arrived in this city Wednesday and will make it his headquarters while he is taking trips to various places in Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Tennessee and the Carolinas.

Mr. Von Weyrman is touring the United States in his inspection of the methods pursued by this government for the conservation and enlargement of national resources. Russia, it seems, will take steps in the near future to introduce irrigation and power plants in its provinces and they will be patterned after the United States plan.

Mr. Von Weyrman is interested especially in the work done by the geological survey in the south. The southern headquarters of this department are in Atlanta, and he is the guest of local officials during his stay of a month or more in this section.

FUNERAL OF MRS. HEALEY ON THURSDAY AFTERNOON

The funeral of Mrs. Olive May Healey, pioneer Atlanta woman who died Tuesday night at her home on Ivy street, corner of Auburn avenue, will occur at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon from the First Presbyterian church, the services being conducted by Dr. Hugh Walker, pastor.

The news of Mrs. Healey's death has brought sorrow to hundreds in Atlanta and throughout the south who had come to love her for her noble character and charming personality. Many beautiful floral offerings which the family has received bespeak in some slight measure the veneration and respect in which Mrs. Healey was held.

The deacons and elders of the First Presbyterian church will act as pallbearers at the funeral. Interment will be in Oakland cemetery.

CONFERENCE IS HELD ON STREET CAR SCHEDULES

A conference was held Wednesday in the office of the railroad commission between Chairman Murphey Candler and President Preston Arkwright and General Manager W. K. Glenn, of the Georgia Railway and Power company. They discussed the betterment of the street railway service in Atlanta. The railway officials will submit at once detailed figures concerning the proposed improvements in schedules. Within a short while an order will be issued by the commission directing changes in schedules.

ALABAMA RATE CASE TO BE DECIDED

On next Wednesday the federal circuit court of appeals will decide whether the Louisville and Nashville railroad shall have a permanent injunction against the Alabama railroad commission, which required the railroad to charge 2 1-2 cents in the state.

The order was passed two years ago and has been the subject of litigation since.

MATIC MOMENT U. S. ASSEMBLY AS ONE WITHDRAWS

McPheeters made his exit, the main crashed against the pulpit.

"That is a matter for the assembly to decide," said Dr. Lyons. "It is not up to the moderator. Shall we vote upon the question?"

Dr. Thomas S. Clyce, who had been an ardent supporter of the majority report, arose. In a voice trembling with feeling he said:

"It seems the only thing for us to do, as painful as it may appear." Seconds came instantaneously. The babel of voices was hushed, however, when Dr. W. McF. Alexander pleaded, in the name of the church, that action be deferred for the time being. His words, simply spoken, seemed to find response in the chord in the hearts of his hearers and action accordingly was left in abeyance.

Thus closed for the time being the most intense, most dramatic scene that has manifested itself in the general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States since the opening of the conference eight days ago.

A TENACIOUS MINORITY.

There was no demonstration, but the bleak that came with the split of the committee on foreign correspondence showed conclusively that there is a minority faction in the assembly unwilling to accept defeat.

It is a noteworthy fact that Dr. Thornton Whaling, chairman of the majority report, is president of the Columbia Theological seminary where Dr. McPheeters is one of the professors. Dr. R. C. Reed, one of the minority with Dr. McPheeters, also is a member of the same faculty.

When the final debate on the reports of the two committees was taken up, Dr. Clyce pleaded for the adoption of the report presented by Dr. Whaling.

"I must be true to my Master and my mother," he said. "We cannot call the general council heretics even if we disapprove of the ideas of Dr. Shafer Matthews, a member of the board. It is the council that is at issue and not an individual."

Dr. Lowry said that he would not be chagrined if the minority report were voted down, that he had done his duty as he felt God ha directed him, and had depended on the divine guidance. There was nothing personal whatever in the report, he declared.

DEFENDS DR. MATHEWS.

In defense of Dr. Matthews, Dr. Whaling said that the man had been misjudged and that he was as close to him as Bishop Hendricks, of the Methodist Episcopal church. "I am the president of the Columbia Theological seminary," the speaker continued, "and have read and teac in my college the works of Dr. Matthews and never in all of my studies could I find the slightest trace of heresy."

The address of Dr. Whaling ended the debate and the vote as already announced was taken.

As a consequence of the action of the assembly in adopting the report of the majority committee, the charges of tampering with national politics and aligning with labor unions is not sustained. In recommending the non-withdrawa lof the assembly from the federal council, the committee announce that they did not wish their action to be construed as endorsing the social service activities of the Churches of Christ in America. And while the committee deemed it advisable not o withdraw ,they wish it clearly understood that the southern assembly is not in sympathy with some of the action of the council.

At 12:30 o'clock the assembly receased until 2:30.

CANADA INVITES UNION.

Following the usual devotional exercises of song and prayer that opened the eighth day session, Dr. Frederick B. DuVal, pastor of Knox Presbyterian church of Winnipeg, Canada, and ex-moderator of the Canadian Presbyterian assembly, was introduced to his southern brethren. Dr. DuVal brought fraternal expressions and greetings from the far north and called especial attention to the need of organic union of all Presbyterian churches. He was warmly received and through the moderator, Dr. J. S. Lyons, was welcomed in behalf of the southern church.

COUNCIL FIGHT RESUMES.

The arguments on the majority and minority report of the committee on foreign correspondence affecting the withdrawal of the Presbyterian church in the United States from the federal council of the churches of Christ in America, began at 10:30 o'clock, each commissioner being allowed three minutes by unanimous consent of the assembly.

Both reports were read for the second time on the motion that some had not heard the original reading on Tuesday.

The conference decided by a rising vote that Dr. Thornton Whaling, chairman of the majority, report, and Dr. T. M. Lowry, representing the minority, be allowed ten minutes each for the concluding remarks in defense of their respective reports.

DELIBERATION COUNSELED.

An attempt to railroad the matter by calls for the previous question and do away with the three-minute speeches came near being successful, when Dr. Clyce stepped into the breach, declaring the matter of too vital importance to pass over lightly.

"I believe we should hear every man who has a word to say on this subject," said the speaker, that no mistake may be made that might result disastrously."

Dr. Lyons appealed from the moderator's chair, also, for a withdrawal of the motion, which was granted upon the request.

The third speaker chosen to bring light upon the two reports was Dr. Clyce. The order of addresses was the ex-moderator, Dr. Lowry and Dr. Whaling.

BRASS BAND CONCERT AT GRANT PARK SUNDAY

The Music Will Begin at 3:30 o'Clock and the Public Is Invited

The brass band of the Fifth regiment, consisting of twenty-five pieces, will give a concert in Grant park next Sunday afternoon, beginning at 3:30 o'clock.

The money to pay the band for this concert has been furnished by the Georgia Railway and Power company. If the general council will appropriate money to pay part of the expenses of concerts for the balance of the summer, the company will furnish the other part, and the public will be provided this with a most enjoyable treat every Sunday afternoon, and perhaps once a week of an evening.

But if council does not appropriate the money, the street car company will probably turn its attention to something elsg in the parks. The company has carried most of the burden of the concerts for several seasons, and is said to be unwilling to continue without a more liberal appropriation from council.

A Sale of Metal Wares and Novelties, A Sale of Lamps

They are packed with savings.

The advertising pen rushes to its opportunity.

It is prone to exclaim at the top of its point on such an occasion. Here is good news—better news for housekeepers than in many a day.

Included in these sales are any number of those little brass, nickel and copper novelties that a housekeeper always finds good use for—tea sets, trays, kettles, fern dishes, jardinieres, ramekins and the like, and then those fine brown earthen cooking utensilks: casseroles, dishes, pans; exquisite and gorgeous lamps and simple little lamps. And such prices as these!

Read them carefully.

Any wonder the advertising pen wants to write in superlatives?

But no; rather will we leave the superlatives to you and your exclamations when you see just how good the values are and just how many useful and wanted articles these sales bring.

To those fixing up their homes these sales are a direct command to be up early and to Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co.'s.

They get underway with the opening of the store.

MINERS LEAVE HOMES IN W. VIRGINIA FIELDS

Disputes With Operators Reach Such Stage That Coal Diggers Seek Protection

(By Associated Press.)

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 22.—Disputes in the West Virginia coal fields reached a new stage last night when 1,000 miners employed in the New River coal fields with their families left their homes and sought the protection of the United Mine Workers of America. It is said all of them intend to live in tents.

The strike in the New River coal fields, while anticipated, came as a surprise.

Thomas Bairnes, president of district No. 17, United Mine Workers of America, brought the report of the trouble to this city. He had been visiting the New River field, where a few days ago the miners organized district 29, United *Mine Workers of America, with a mem*bership of 15,000.

The action of the miners in beginning a strike is said to have complicated a situation already mixed and serious. Senator Kern, of Indiana, has introduced a resolution in the United States senate providing for a federal investigation of the West Virginia coal strike. The matter is now before the senate committee on education and labor.

The national Socialist party is making an investigation of conditions. Eugene V. Debs, former candidate for president, and Adolph Germer, of Illinois, having taken up the inquiry here. Later Victor L. Berger, former member of congress, the third member of the Socialist committee, is to assist Debs and Germer.

The coal strike originating in the Kanawha coal field has been of long duration. Thrice martial law has been proclaimed and is still in effect, although but few soldiers are in that field.

All three orders for martial law were issued by former Governor William E. Glasscock, since the beginning of the mine trouble, April 1, 1912. Governor N. D. Hatfield, who succeeded Governor Glasscock March 4, last, has announced that troops are to remain in the Kanawha district until he is satisfied that "a crusade of insurrection and riot ceases."

A few weeks ago Governor Hatfield submitted to the miners and operators of the Kanawha field a peace proposal which was accepted by both sides. It provided for a check weighman elected by the miners, a semi-monthly pay, a nine-hour day and established a practice of employes being compelled to buy necessities at company stores.

Although there was no provision for recognition of the miners' union, the strike in the Kanawha field was declared at an end, but troops were not withdrawn.

When the new district of the miners' union was being formed in the New River coal field it was made known that the operators were willing to accept the proposals of Governor Hatfield made to the Kanawha field. However, the operators did not participate in the meeting and intimated they would not recognize a union. The strike in the New River field last night is charged to the operators because of their alleged dismissal of men affiliated with the union.

Throughout the entire strike trouble has run a period of bloodshed and rioting. It has been an utter impossibility to check the violations, as they were scattered and occurred in isolated mountain spots.

After a conference with military advisers and others, which lasted until 2 o'clock this morning, Governor Hatfield ordered the release of twelve men held under martial law. All were released on their own recognizance. They were C. H. Boswell, George P. Parsons, John W. Brown, C. W. Lavender, Thomas Miskel, Charles Kenny, Nelson Tredway, John Zachrist, A. D. Lavender, W. H. Thompson, H. C. Wranach and Crockett Webb. The governor did not release Fritz Merrick, of Pittsburg, Pa., editor of Justice, a Socialist publication, arrested here while visiting a local paper. Early this morning the governor reiterated that martial law would be continued for the present.

Senate Committee Will Ask Thorough Probe

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Senator Swanson, chairman of the sub-committee which framed the resolution authorizing a broad investigation of conditions in the West Virginia coal fields, was ready today with the report in favor of such an inquiry.

The resolution closely resembled that of Senator Kern, who led the fight in the senate for an investigation. With the backing of the education and labor committee and many prominent senators on both sides, Senator Swanson hoped that it might be agreed to with little debate.

SECRETARY DANIELS TAKES AN AIR TRIP

Secretary of Navy, With Government Aviator, Flies Eight Miles

(By Associated Press.)

ANNAPOLIS, Md., May 22.—Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels yesterday afternoon traveled eight miles through the air in a flying boat. It was delightful; I enjoyed the sensation thoroughly," was the secretary's reply to an inquiry just after he alighted.

The secretary went up with Lieutenant John H. Towers, senior officer of the navy aviation corps, whose camp is across the river from the naval academy. The flight was made in the flying boat C-1. The air trip was begun at four minutes to 4 o'clock. Eight minutes later the trip was over and the secretary, after traveling about eight miles at a height of 500 feet, was telling of his experience.

Mr. Daniels came to Annapolis during the morning and inspected the buildings and grounds at the academy. After dining with Superintendent J. H. Gibbons he boarded a navy launch, which carried him to the aviation camp. As he passed the battleship Illinois in the stream a salute of nineteen guns was fired in his honor. Lieutenant Towers and the other officers of the camp showed the secretary the long line of hangars in which five flying machines were stabled.

HIS FLIGHT.

When the last was reached, the flying boat was quickly launched, while Mr. Daniels donned an overcoat and stuffed cotton waste into his ears to drown the noise of the engine during the flight. Then, after signing his name to the official register where all passengers place their signatures before beginning a trip, he took his seat beside Lieutenant Towers.

Starting from shore, Lieutenant Towers kept his craft on the water for about an eighth of a mile and then sailed gradually upward and toward the mouth of the Severn river and Chesapeake bay. After about two miles of steady climbing in this direction a turn was made and the flying boat passed over the camp at a height of about 500 feet. As it passed over Mr. Daniels waved his hand to the crew below. A straight flight up the river of about four miles was made and then Lieutenant Towers turned for the trip back and downward, landing just in front of the point from which the start was made.

HOW IT FELT.

When he had landed the secretary talked of his sensations and mentioned the fact that by flying today after having taken a dive in a submarine boat at Norfolk recently he had gone down and up with the navy.

"I always thought I was a good fellow, but never before knew I had such good wings," he said. Asked if the noise of the engine was very loud, he said it was not ,but that it was difficult to talk. "A congressman recently told me that was the case, and I then said it would be a good thing to get an aeroplane for every member of congress if it would make talking difficult for them," he remarked with a laugh.

Mr. Daniels did not cross the river with her husband, but witnessed the flight from the naval academy. When he was asked what his wife thought of his taking such risks, the secretary said: "Oh, she didn't object. She's a better sailor than I, anyway."

As he turned to enter the boat that was to take him back to the academy, the secretary said: "Remember, be good here ,if you want to fly hereafter."

Lieutenant Commander J. L. Palmer, the secretary's aide, made a flight with Lieutenant E. L. Smith in one of the converted biplanes.

NEBRASKANS FIRE ON JAIL HOLDING SUSPECT

Attempt to Lynch Accused Black Frustrated by Sheriff

(By Associated Press.)

HIAWATHA, Kan., May 22.—A second attempt by a band of men from Falls City, Neb., to lynch Walter Ballew, a negro held in jail here charged with an attack upon a white woman of Falls City, last Sunday night, was frustrated today by Sheriff Moore and an under sheriff, who repulsed a desperate attack upon the jail. The jail door was battered down, window panes broken and walls scarred by bullets.

A score of Falls City men drove up to the jail at 2 o'clock this morning. The sound of gun shots and the patter of bullets on the walls was the first signal of attack.

Then four members of the mob burst open the heavy door leading into the jail's residence apartments. In the corridor they were confronted by Under Sheriff Bartlow who, covering them with a revolver, forced them out. Deputies guarded the way of communication from the sheriff's apartment into the cell rooms and also every window.

Meanwhile the fusillade had attracted scores of citizens. Their arguments and the determined stand of the officers finally induced the mob's departure. The men returned to Falls City, after being assured that Ballew would be returned to Nebraska for trial as soon as legal formalities were complied with.

The first attempt to wrest Ballew from the hands of authorities occurred Tuesday night. At that time a Falls City party was induced to return home by officials' arguments.

Healthy Baby is Precious Blessing

To Make It Healthy and Keep It Healthy Use a Reliable Baby Laxative

In spite of the greatest personal care and the most intelligent attention to diet, babies and children will become constipated, and it is a fact that constipation and indigestion have wrecked many a young life. To start with a good digestive apparatus is to start life without handicap.

But as we cannot all have perfect working bowels we must do the next best thing and acquire them, or train them to become healthy. This can be done by the use of a laxative-tonic very highly recommended by a great many mothers. Negro held in jail here charged with Syrup Pepsin and has been on the market for two generations. It can be bought conveniently at any drug store for fifty cents or one dollar a bottle, and those who are already convinced of its merits buy the dollar size.

Its mildness makes it the ideal medicine for children, and it is also very pleasant to the taste. It is sure in its effect and genuinely harmless. Very little of it is required and its frequent use does not cause it to lose its effect, as is the case with so many other remedies.

Thousands can testify to its merits in constipation, indigestion, billousness, sick headaches, etc., among them reliable people like Mrs. M. Johnson, 52 Dayton street, Kenosha, Wis. She is the mother of little Dorothy Johnson who was always in delicate health until her mother gave her Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Mrs. Johnson says: "I never saw such rapid improvement in the health of anyone. Syrup Pepsin is a wonderful remedy and I shall never be without it again." Thousands keep Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin constantly in the house, for every member of the family can use it from infancy to old age. The users of Syrup Pepsin have learned to avoid cathartics, salts, mineral waters, pills and other harsh remedies for they do but temporary good and are a shock to any delicate system.

DOROTHY JOHNSON.

If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, send Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 417 Washington street, Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you.

MAKES YOUR BACKACHE VANISH, DRIVES RHEUMATIC PAINS AWAY

Eases Stiff, Sore, Swollen Joints and Muscles, Relieving Backache and Bladder Disorders After Few Doses are Taken.

This is what Croxone, the new scientific discovery, does for sufferers of such troubles. It promptly relieves these diseases because it reaches the cause. It soaks right into the walls and linings of the kidneys and cleans out the stopped-up, inactive organs like water does a sponge—neutralizes and dissolves every particle of uric acid and makes the kidneys sift from the blood all the waste matter and poisons that lodge in the joints and muscles to scratch and irritate and cause rheumatism. It soothes and heals the delicate linings of the bladder and leaves the kidneys in a clean, strong, healthy condition, so they can filter the blood and keep you well.

If you suffer with backache—have pains in the neck or sides—nervous or dizzy spells—a few doses of Croxone will relieve the congestion and you will be surprised how quickly all kidney, bladder and rheumatic troubles will disappear.

Croxone is different from all other remedies. It is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results. An original package of Croxone costs but a trifle, and all druggists are authorized to return the purchase price if Croxone should fail in a single case. (Advt.)

THE ROLL CALL OF 859 MEMBERS DELAYS THE NORTHERN ASSEMBLY

Unexpected Complication Wednesday Afternoon Throws Big Body Behind With Its Docket and It May Not Finish Until Monday—Call Consumed Nearly an Hour — Wednesday's Work Displaced Thereby Till Thursday

As the result of a roll call vote which had to be taken Wednesday afternoon, the northern assembly is not likely to finish Friday afternoon, as scheduled, and may run until Monday before adjourning sine die.

It was the first roll call vote of the assembly up to date, and it consumed nearly an hour. Calling the names of 859 commissioners is a task that would put the clerks and tellers of the United States congress on their mettle, much less the ecclesiastical gentlemen of a church, assembly.

The question on which the vote was taken was whether the assembly shall direct the board of church erection to take $500,000 from the John S. Kennedy fund and add it to the loan fund for aiding feeble congregations to build churches.

To give such direction required a two-thirds vote of the roll of the assembly, on account of a clause to this effect in the board's charter, granted by the New York legislature.

First an effort was made to get the vote by having the commissioners stand, but the clerks found it wellnigh impossible to count so many men in so small a space, and finally the roll had to be called for the sake of accuracy. Well over two-thirds voted in the affirmative.

THE SECOND DIRECTION.

This makes the assembly's second direction to the board. The same direction was given by the assembly of 1912, but was not followed because members of the board differed on a point of law, some contending that the board's charter would not legally permit the money being used for this purpose.

When the question came up Wednesday afternoon various members of the board debated the legal points at great length, and in the course of the debate there was a sharp clash between Dr. Afterbury and Mr. Thompson, both of New York.

Mr. Thompson said one of the most persistent opponents of complying with the assembly's directions had been the secretary of the board.

"I deliberately tell you that is not true," said Dr. Afterbury.

Mr. Thompson said if he was mistaken he would withdraw the statement, and thus the matter passed over smoothly.

SABBATH SCHOOL LESSONS.

The northern assembly opened Wednesday afternoon with the report of the standing committee on publication and Sabbath school work, presented by Rev. W. H. W. Bayle, D. D., of Lake Forest, Ill., chairman of the committee.

After reviewing the work of this department of the church during the past year, the committee submitted a long list of recommendations, among them the following:

That the general plan of graded Sabbath school lessons, as followed by the board of publication and Sabbath school work, be approved, for churches preferring them, but that these lessons need certain improvements.

REVISE GRADED LESSONS.

That the board revise the beginners', primary and junior lessons, with particular care to simplify expression and to make the lessons conform strictly to the essentials of the Presbyterian doctrine.

That in preparing extra Bible studies, the same points be observed.

That where nature studies are used, they be connected with texts from the scripture, with a view of impressing a spiritual lesson.

That where lessons in social science, biology and ethics are used, they be selected and imparted in a way to confirm the truth of the Bible.

That the plan of co-operating with other Presbyterian denominations in publishing and syndicating Sabbath school literature be indorsed.

That the synods and presbyteries be urged to exercise great care in the selection of Sabbath school work committees.

That the board be authorized and directed to organize a department of religious education.

OBJECTIONS ARE RAISED.

This last recommendation encountered some obection on the ground that the executive commission has the advisability of such a department under consideration, and therefore action should be deferred until the commission's report can be heard.

Dr. Alexander Henry, of Philadelphia, secretary of the board, made no attempt to deliver his report prepared in advance, owing to the press for time, and asked permission to have it printed in the minutes, which was granted.

He spoke briefly in behalf of the committee's recommendation in regard to the department of religious education.

As a supplement to the committee's report, Dr. Bayle made an eloquent plea for increased support, financially and otherwise, in the great cause of extending the Sabbath school to the 11,000,000 children in America who have none.

OKLAHOMAN WINS LAUGH.

Rev. Duncan McCruer, a stalwart Sabbath school missionary from Oklahoma, caught the assembly with a brief talk on the great undeveloped field for work, in the course of which he said: "How grand would be the sight of Dr. Francis Brown and some of our other theologians, toting Sunday school literature in their arms to the children out there on the firing line."

Dr. Brown joined with the assembly in the hearty laugh which greeted the "frontier" minister's shrewd remark.

All of the recommendations of the committee were adopted.

CHURCH FUND REPORT.

By a special order, the executive commission presented a special feature of its report dealing with the board of church erection, which was deferred when the commission's report was read last week.

After recommending a number of rules governing loans by the board, the commission made the following recommendation, which provoked a lengthy discussion:

That the board take $500,00 from the John S. Kennedy fund and add it to the loan fund, to be used in aiding feeble congregations to build churches.

ILLEGALITY FEARED.

The board was given this direction by the general assembly of 1912, but has not complied because some members of the board object to such a use of the money, claiming it to be illegal under the board's charter and the conditions of the bequest.

Both sides of the question were debated by members of the board, and the debate hinged, mainly on two legal opinions by Judge Alton B. Parker, of New York, one saying such use of the money would be legal, the other saying it would be illegal.

LONG ROLL IS CALLED

After a lengthy discussion, the matter was finally forced to a vote by a call for the previous question.

An amendment to recommit the matter to the executive commission was defeated.

Then, on the motion to adopt the commission's recommendation, a two-thirds vote of the whole assembly was necessary in the affirmative, owing to the act of the New York legislature granting the charter of the board of church erection.

Moderator Stone ruled that 572 constituted the two-thirds, and in order to obtain an unanimous vote the roll was called—859 names.

It was the first roll call vote of the assembly up to date, and consumed nearly an hour.

RECOMMENDATION WINS.

More than the necessary two-thirds voted in the affirmative, so that the recommendation was adopted, thereby again directing the board to use $500,000 of the John S. Kennedy fund for the purpose above stated.

So much time was required in calling the roll that the hour of adjournment had arrived when the vote was announced.

This shut out the commissioners desiring to move reconsideration of the executive commission's report on the home mission board, which opportunity they had been promised. Moderator Stone fixed this matter as a special order for Friday morning, which satisfied all parties, and the assembly thereupon adjourned until Thursday morning.

EACH MAN SAYS "LIAR" BEGAN THE FIST FIGHT

A. C. Dunlap, real estate agent, 605 Grant building, was bound over to the city criminal court by Recorder Broyles Thursday morning on a charge of assault and battery upon J. A. Collat, civil engineer, of 75 East Georgia avenue, as the result of an altercation between the two men in the office of the former. Collat, against whom also a charge had been made, was dismissed.

Following an argument over a business transaction Wednesday afternoon, the men came to blows. In court both asserted that the other had called him a liar preceding the battle.

ASSEMBLIES NEAR CLOSE; U. P. WILL END THURSDAY

Associate Reformed Conferences End—U. S. A. and U. S. Assemblies Go On

The first of the great Presbyterian assemblies that have been in session in Atlanta for the past eight days to come to a close is that of the United Presbyterian church, which ends Thursday afternoon.

The Reformed synod also will close during the afternoon, but the assemblies of the U. S. and U. S. A. churches will continue until Friday night. Indications are that the U. S. A. assembly will run even until Saturday, because of a big volume of business that not yet has been worked off.

GRAND JURY TO PROTECT FISH IN LAKEWOOD LAKE

True Bill Found Against Southern Wood Preserving Co. for Spoiling Waters

A true bill for a misdemeanor charge was found by the grand jury Wednesday against the Southern Wood Preserving company on a bill prepared by Deputy Game Warden Binder of this county, who charged the company with polluting the waters of Lakewood lake and killing fish there.

The Southern Wood Preserving company's plant is located just meyond Fort McPherson, and is situated near a creek which empties into the lake at Lakewood. It was this small stream that carried some preparation, presumably a composition made up of a large part of creosote, that made the waters of the lake almost uninhabitable by the finny tribe, according to people who live in the vicinity of Lakewood and who complained to the county game warden.

Clergyman Praises Eckman's Alterative

People who have lung trouble are often filled with bright hopes of recovery, only to realize that improvement is but temporary. Those who had it all used Eckman's Alterative can testify to its beneficial effects. No one need doubt it—there is plenty of evidence from live witnesses. Investigate the following:

Amenia, N. Y.

"Gentlemen: On February 9, 1908, I came to Amenia, suffering with Tuberculosis, that originated in a severe case of La Grippe. My physician gave me little encouragement. I was having terrible night sweats and mid-day chills and those fresh spells of coughing, some from 125 to 135 pounds. I coughed and raised continually and became so weak that walking a few feet exhausted me. My father, who is a clergyman, heard of Eckman's Alterative and induced me to take it. The night sweats and chills disappeared, my cough became easier and gradually diminished and in a few days I developed an appetite, the first in months. I am now in perfect health, back to 155 pounds. I feel certain that I owe my life to Eckman's Alterative."

The Georgia Prison Association---Its Constructive Purpose.

Georgia is fortunate in having a Prison Association that stands for practical and specific improvements in the State's penal system without going to those extremes of method of speech which too often retard or dissipate reform movements, however meritorious within themselves they may be. The most effective means for removing an evil is to show the people just wherein it is harmful to their interests and unworthy of their ideals and then to point out a definite, feasible remedy. Seldom is a straightforward appeal to the public's common sense and conscience in vain.

The Prison Association of Georgia is composed of good citizens in various parts of the commonwealth who believe that for economic as well as humanitarian reasons there should be certain constructive changes in the present methods of dealing with prisoners. They recognize the great forward stride that was taken when the Legislature abolished the old system of leasing convicts to private interests. They fully recognize the value of the new and more generous order to the cause of good roads and the development of the counties. But they are also convinced that through certain well considered changes this system can be still further improved and made far more productive of good on both the humane and practical side.

Hence, the association has tendered its aid to the Legislature in the working out of remedial measures for such evils and weaknesses as now exist. Questions of this kind will naturally arise at the forthcoming session of the General Assembly; for clear-headed business men in various counties realize that improvements in the present penal system are needed, and probably every member of the House and the Senate who has given serious thought to such matters is of like opinion.

The Prison Association, having done much thorough and conservative work in studying questions like this in other States as well as in Georgia, should be of invaluable service to the Legislature; and its counsel will be particularly worth while for the reason that it deals with facts and in seeking to make things as they ought to be never loses sight of things as they are.

The Spirit of Modern Education.

The fact that the mayor of Philadelphia, accompanied by a large body of officials and citizens, is going to the University of Wisconsin to take a week's course of lectures on municipal management is, in two respects, highly interesting. It signifies, for one thing, that progressive public officials are realizing the need of wide and accurate knowledge in the administration of a community's affairs and are eager to learn all they can.

But in addition to this, it signifies the closer relationships that are springing up between our educational institutions and the country's practical interests. It is a noteworthy fact that the University of Wisconsin should offer a course of lectures on city government. A few decades ago such enterprise was almost unknown in our schools and colleges. A college was regarded as a place where one could learn languages and certain sciences and acquire a kind of personal "finish," but not as an institution in close sympathetic touch with the world's daily work.

How different it is today! One of the mottoes of the University of Wisconsin is this: "Reach all the people all the time," and that in effect is the motto of scores of other influential schools throughout the country. What is the secret of the wonderful progress of the Georgia State College of Agriculture and of the Georgia Normal and Industrial College, of Tech and the University and other such institutions? It is the fact that they are striving continually to be of practical service to the people.

Well, it begins to look as if we wouldn't fight Japan after all, despite a warlike governor and a few editors.

Supervising the Milk Supply.

Nothing is more characteristic of the present time, when the principles of conservation are being so liberally applied to human as well as economic and agricultural interests, than the various laws which are being enacted as guarantees of pure food and the public's health. In reactionary quarters such measures are naturally challenged and are described as the city's or State's or nation's interference with private business rights. But it is a significant fact that well framed laws of this character are almost invariably upheld by the courts.

A particularly notable instance in point is the recent decision of the United States supreme court affirming the constitutionality of the Milwaukee milk ordinance which empowers the health officials of that city to exercise the closest supervision over the public's milk supply. They are authorized, among other things, to confiscate milk that does not meet the requirements of the tuberculin test, and to destroy infected cattle.

The supreme court holds that such a law is not at variance with the constitution, and in doing so it coincides with the view previously taken by a number of State courts, notably those of Kentucky, Minnesota, Wisconsin and New Jersey. The Chicago Tribune, in commenting on the decision, aptly remarks:

Opponents of this ordinance will, of course, continue to characterize it as drastic in the extreme. Persons, however, who have the health and welfare of the community at heart will readily agree that no measure can be too drastic where lives of infants are in question. The authorities in charge of the milk situation should proceed to make the most of this decision.

The campaign for pure milk is nation-wide. In the entire Union there is scarcely a city of importance that is not making diligent effort to safeguard consumers in general and families with infants in particular against adulterated and unclean milk. In the more progressive communities this movement has been carried still further through well-organized endeavors to improve the quality and increase the nutriment of the milk that is sold. Physicians and women's clubs have joined in this work with the health authorities, and, not infrequently, the dairymen themselves are cooperating, much to their own welfare and profit.

Atlanta has particular cause to be interested in such enterprises. It has earned the foremost rank among all American cities in the percentage of the reduction of its infant death rate during the past nine years. That valuable record must be maintained through the same means by which it was established, namely, a continued and extended campaign in behalf of public health, and especially children's health.

Much has been done in recent seasons to assure the purity of the city's milk supply; but much more can and should be done; for, there is perhaps no more prolific source of infantile disease and death than milk which is produced or dispensed under insanitary conditions. The municipal authorities and the Fulton County Medical Association, generously supported by the local branch of the Child's Welfare movement, are now considering still more inclusive and effective plans in this regard. It is to be hoped that their worthy efforts will materialize and that Atlanta may soon be known as a model city for the supervision of its milk supply.

Truth is the best argument.

The Southward Trend.

The Southward trend of settlers and investors is witnessed in a recently formed plan to colonize large tracts of land in Texas with Canadian farmers. A company of English capitalists is reported to have purchased several thousand acres in that State with a view to providing easily acquirable farms for home-seekers in the Dominion and the great Northwest.

This is but one among scores of instances which show that the South is fast becoming the Mecca of those who are looking for free and fertile opportunities. "Texas is big enough" comments the Boston Transcript, "to stand a vast volume of immigration without being crowded. Its resources are so varied that within its boundaries can be raised cotton, wheat, corn, grapes, melons fruits and politicians in unlimited quantities." In so far as the natural re*sources mentioned* are concerned, this description is equally applicable to Georgia and, indeed, to the entire South.

THE INCOME TAX

XV.—Japan's Remarkable Rates.
BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

Nowhere else in the world can a people be found who are more heavily taxed than are the Japanese. Certain it is that if the people of the United States, who habitually complain of their high taxes, had been educated up to the Japanese standard of tax paying they would regard our present taxes as feather light. In the first place we must remember that Japan is not as big as California, and that its arable land, if placed in one body, would not make a greater amount of territory than the state of West Virginia. Then it must be borne in mind that Japan has a population so dense that a similar density in the United States would give us more than a billion inhabitants. With this in mind, it is interesting to reflect that the 50,000,000 people who inhabit this small territory must not only bear their own living, but must contribute annually a quarter of a billion dollars to the national treasury. Five dollars per capita where wages are less per day, as a rule, than they are per hour in the United States! Small wonder that Japan groans under the burden, and little surprise that its government levies the highest income tax in the world!

• • •

There are some striking things about the Japanese income tax law, and none of them more so than the provision that corporations and stock companies shall be taxed at a lower rate than individuals. The tax on an income of $50,000 in the hands of an individual is 20.35 per cent; in the hands of a corporation or company having more than twenty-one shareholders it is 6.25 per cent. The exemptions in Japan also are low. Any one who has an income of more than $75 a year must face the income tax collector. And he who has an income of as much as $100,000 must pay one-third of it all in taxes each year.

• • •

The Japanese income tax law dates from 1899. The rate was then fixed at 2 1-2 per cent on all incomes above the exemption of 150 yen, or $75. The rates of taxation were increased during the war with Russia, in 1904, and again after its close in 1905. The promises was made then as now that in the exigencies of the war were passed the tax would be reduced to its former status, but Japan still groans under its war taxes, and as long as it maintains its ambitions to be a world power there is little chance of any reduction. The rate is graduated from 4 per cent to 32 per cent.

• • •

The general scheme of exemptions is not a liberal one by any means. The salaries of officers and privates while engaged in war are exempt, allowances to widows, orphans and sick and wounded soldiers come in the same category, as do monies received for traveling and school expenses and the incomes of corporations not conducted for profit. Double taxation in the case of corporations and companies is avoided by the provision that the income of an individual derived from these sources may not be taxed. In the matter of differentiation between earned and unearned income the usual practice is almost reversed. In order to encourage the formation of corporations the tax on the income derived from their bonds is only 2 per cent. It is probable that this same desire is responsible for the provision that the general tax on the incomes of corporations is lower than that on indi*viduals.*

• • •

The Japanese adopt the general idea that incomes should be taxed in proportion to their size, and follow this idea partly with reference to artificial persons and fully with reference to natural persons. After the income reaches a point where the creature wants of men are met, the tax begins to advance by leaps and bounds, and the very rich are taxed until they feel it, just as the people of small incomes are. The Japanese idea of giving to the government seems to be that of the preacher who declared to his members that it was the duty of every man to give to the church until he felt it, and that what costs no self-denial is not enough to give.

• • •

In assessing the tax in Japan each individual is required to furnish the government with a statement of his income. In the case of incomes of corporations having more than twenty-one shareholders the law permits, in addition to the deduction of actual expenses from the gross income, the deduction of losses for the business year, the balance brought forward from the previous year, and the amount reserved to meet liabilities for insurance.

• • •

In assessing individual incomes, the individual is allowed to deduct the expenses of conducting his business, but is not permitted to take off his household expenses. In the cases of income derived from interest, dividends, salaries, wages, allowances, annuities and pensions, no deductions on account of expenses are permitted. Incomes derived from lands are calculated on the basis of a three-year period average.

• • •

The assessment and collection of the income tax in Japan is under the direct supervision of the national financial department, and the work is done simply as a part of the regular internal revenue service. In the assessment of the incomes of individuals the government is aided by assessment commissions, made up of members who are elected for each district by the taxpayers themselves, and who serve for four years, with half of them retiring every two years. These commissions receive no pay for the services, but are reimbursed for their traveling and other expenses. Where these commissions are careless in completing their work the tax office may go ahead independent of them, or when it has reason to believe that the commission has failed to protect the interests of the government it may order a reinvestigation.

• • •

Appeals are permitted only by individuals, since the incomes of corporations are calculated from their own annual reports, and since interest incomes permit of no dispute. If an individual decides to appeal he must, within twenty days after receipt of a statement of his assessment, bring it to the attention of the taxation office of his district. That office, in turn, takes the matter up with the revenue superintending bureau which has oversight of a number of taxation offices. The revenue superintending bureau has a permanent committee of inquiry, which is made up of three tax collectors appointed by the minister of finance and four members of the local investigation committee. However, the aggrieved taxpayer must go on paying the tax fixed by the taxation office. A person still unsatisfied with his assessment may petition the local authorities or have the matter tested in the courts.

• • •

A person who evades the tax by concealing the true amount of his income is liable to a fine amounting to three times the tax evaded. Where such a tax dodger gets some compunction of conscience after he had dodged the tax and voluntarily confesses to what he has done, he is completely absolved from punishment, and required to pay only the tax that is due. There are no other penalties attached to the law, and there are no special provisions made for the detection of fraudulent returns.

• • •

About 10 per cent of all the taxes of Japan are collected through its income tax law. There are approximately a million income taxpayers in the empire, so that it appears that only two in each hundred persons enjoy an annual income of as much as $75. Assuming that each of these taxpayers is the head of an average family of five, it will be seen that about 10 per cent of the people are directly or indirectly assessed with the tax.

THE COMMONPLACE

BY DR. FRANK CRANE.
(Copyright, 1913, by Frank Crane.)

The people of the world may be divided into two classes, those who find their happiness in the usual, and those who find their happiness in the unusual.

The first are as a rule healthy, contented, helpful and optimistic.

The second are as a rule morbid, restless, pessimistic, and nuisances to all around them.

The most important thing for a human being to learn, is it not how to live his life with a maximum of contentment and care of body and mind, and the minimum of friction?

Those have discovered what is perhaps the greatest secret of existence, who have come to realize that it is in the commonplace that one is to find permanent satisfaction; and that the extraordinary, strange and occasional sources of pleasure are to be regarded as a matter by the way, not to be taken account of in their program.

Yet the majority of silly mortals never learn this. Consequently, most people are more or less soured, peevish and discontented.

It is the duty of our teachers to lead us to the enjoyment of life's everydayness.

The sum of culture, of wisdom and of intelligent experience consists in an appreciation of the ordinary events and circumstances, and in a proper discounting of the occasional.

The happiest wife and mother is the one whose delight is in the daily round of the home, the companionship of her husband, the care and guidance of her children. The unhappiest is the wife who is longing to escape this, who calls it drudgery, and whose pleasures are found only in the occasional excursion, theater or social diversion.

The happiest business man is the man to whom business is fun. The unhappiest is the man who looks upon his occupation as a grind, and whose pleasure is in breaking away.

The happiest workman is the one who enjoys his work; the unhappiest is the one whose work worries him and who is always looking forward to getting away from it.

The great sources of human joy are all commonplace.

They are Nature, Love and Self-expression (work and play). Anybody can have these. They are as common as dirt. They are as near to the reach of the section hand as to the reach of the railway president. They lie as close to the grocer as to the college professor.

Any one can learn how to get the honey of joy from Nature, from her sun and wave and field. Any one can love and be loved, and fully as gloriously in a tenement as in a mansion. Any one can find work to do and games to play thereby. Two clerks playing seven-up on a soap box in a back room can get precisely as much fun out of the game as two dress-suited Charlies in a plush-lined club house.

The cheaper and commoner a thing, the more joy juice in it. For there is more exhilaration, take it by and large, in water, than in all varieties of booze, more good feelings produced by bread and butter than by cake and bar le duc, more comfort in loving your wife and playing with your children than in loving other men's wives and regarding children as a bore.

I call a man truly converted, or enlightened, or born again, or emancipated, or whatever expression suits you, when he has weeded out of his soul the lust for the exceptional, and when he has learned that the greatest fun in the world is TO LIVE and to enjoy those pleasures of life that are COMMON TO ALL THE RACE.

In time past people could see religion only in extraordinary things, in miracles, abnormal saints, and esoteric tommyrot; now the world is awakening to see that it is the daily existence that is made free and joyous by faith.

Happiness is a fruit that grows low along the ground; little children and wise men pick it. Fools are looking up at the trees.

JUST SMILES

One day last summer two small boys were playing near the country road. A young woman approached them.

Two young women went to the matinee. They could not get seats together, but were told at the box office that each could have an end seat, center aisle, in adjoining rows, and most likely somebody who came alone and had a chair next to one of them would obligingly exchange seats. Near the close of the first act one of the young women timidly whispered to a heavy, middle aged man at her side, who had been sitting stiffly and looking straight ahead:

"Are you alone, sir?"

The man buried one side of his face in his program and breathed:

"Sh! Wife."—Everybody's Magazine.

Travelers' tales, which often add charm to the conversation of an agreeable person, frequently render a horse more tiresome than ever, a fact that was amusingly illustrated by an occurrence in a Baltimore club house not long ago.

"There I stood, gentlemen," the long-winded narrator was saying, after droning on for an hour with reference to his trip to Switzerland—"there I stood with the abyss yawning in front of me."

"Pardon me," hastily interjected one of the unfortunate men who had been obliged to listen to the story, "but was that abyss yawning before you got there?"—Harper's Weekly.

A teacher in one of the schools defined conscience as "something within you that tells you when you have done wrong."

"Oh, yes," said a little lad at the end of the room, "I had it once last summer after I'd eaten green apples, but they had to send for a doctor."

HIGHER ATHLEMATICS.

The most sensational race was the half mile in which George Browne raced to the tape a winner in the time of 1 minute 54 3-4 seconds, practically 3 seconds better than the 1 minute 59 3-5 seconds mark registered in 1899 by Finkney Adams of Yale.

Little less sensational was the feat of H. J. Norris, of Yale, in scooping the mile in four minutes, just four fifths of a second better than 26 seconds, the record made by Dick Grant, Harvard's wonderful distance flier in 1898.

PLEASANT PARTY IS RIGHT.
(From the Charleston News and Courier.)

About twenty guests left the palatial Pine Forest Inn yesterday morning in comfortable conveyances for the far-famed Magnolia Gardens, and the day was delightfully passed, for the companionable and the almost unrivalled attractions of the scenery, the flowers and the foliage proved to be entrancing. The pleasant party had an orchestra along, and the woods resounded with the melody of favorite airs. It was a day dream, and the Gardens, with their wealth of azaleas, japonicas, camellias; their avenues of green and glowing shrubbery, fringed with rare flowers; the romantic walks and lovely lakes, seemed a veritable fairyland. Music added to the charm; so did the fair, bright women, the impersonation of grace and sweetness. Lingering by the side of the picturesque lake, which mirrored the branches of grand old trees and of beautiful blossoms, admiringly gazing at the symbolic cypress, the majestic magnolia, the clinging ivy and high hedges studded with the fair, white Cherokee roses, every one thought of the glory and grandeur of this earthly paradise, and it was with regret that they left the Gardens. Like Goldsmith's Traveller, they cast one longing, lingering look behind.

FOREIGN MISSION WORK TOLD U. S. A. ASSEMBLY

New Jersey Pastor Charges "Heresy" Against Another Member of Assembly

An inspiring presentation of the cause of foreign missions, and a victory for conservative theology in the adoption of the report of the special committee which investigated the graded Sabbath school lessons, were the two main features of the Thursday morning session of the Northern assembly in the Baptist Tabernacle.

The church's unprecedented and challenging opportunity to press the gospel in heathen lands, the difficulties as well as the promise of the situation, and the advance of foreign mission work in the past ecclesiastical year—those and other phases of the subject were outlined to the assembly in splendid addresses by Rev. W. R. King, D. D., chairman of the standing committee on foreign missions; Rev. A. W. Halsey, D. D., secretary of the foreign mission board, and by several foreign missionaries at home on furlough and attendant upon the assembly.

The special committee on graded Sabbath school lessons, after thoroughly examining the literature circulated by the board of publication and Sabbath school work, approved the graded lesson plan in general, but recommended that the lessons be revised in such a way as to emphasize more positively the doctrines of the Presbyterian church. The committee's report was adopted almost unanimously.

In the course of the brief debate on the report, Rev. James G. Mason, of Metuchen, N. J., charged Rev. Robert Inglis, of Newark, N. J., with heresy. He said he would not press the charge before the assembly, however, but would "go after Brother Inglis in his own presbytery, which adjoins mine."

WHITE SLAVE TRAFFIC.

The northern assembly Thursday morning took cognizance of the white slave traffic by adopting a recommendation from the bills and overtures committee providing in substance as follows:

That the time has come for the church to speak on this great problem, and therefore the moderator is directed to appoint a special committee of five to consider the enormous violation of the seventh commandment, and to recommend steps to safeguard the youth of the land.

The assembly also adopted a recommendation that the Ohio flood district be committed to the charge of Moderator for their liberal aid, especially in rebuilding churches and Sabbath schools.

At the conclusion of this report Moderator Stone announced that the question of establishing the office of assistant stated clerk would be taken up as a special order at 12 o'clock, and speakers would be limited to three minutes each.

Immediately ex-Congressman W. S. Bennett, of New York, a commissioner, was on his feet, making strenuous objection.

PROTESTS "GAG RULE."

"Without any discourtesy to the moderator, whose handling of the assembly has been admirable, I protest against the 'gag law' on this matter," he said. "I want it to be thrown open for debate just as long, within reasonable limits, as the commissioners desire to discuss it. I don't want the chief performing of any officer of the assembly behind the scenes."

The assembly applauded.

Rev. W. P. Merrill, of New York, said his suggestion to the moderator was responsible for the three minute limit.

"I never heard a speech to the assembly which could not have been delivered to advantage in three minutes," he said, and the assembly laughed.

Moderator Stone satisfied Mr. Bennett by extending the limit to five minutes.

Then, and other indications, promised a lively fight over the assistant stated clerk matter.

Resuming the docket where it was left off Wednesday, the assembly heard the report of the standing committee on foreign missions, presented by the chairman, Rev. W. R. King.

The report was a tremendously strong statement of the vast opportunity now facing the church to carry the gospel of Christ into heathen lands.

CHALLENGE TO CHURCH.

"It is the wildest, most hopeful and most pressing opportunity that ever faced the Protestant church," said the report. "The situation, in China especially, is God's challenge to the church, 'Go in and possess the land.'"

The foreign mission board, as the report pointed out, is the largest of the various agencies of the Presbyterian church.

It has increased 100 per cent in the last seven years. It spent $2,000,000 during the past ecclesiastical year, and has 1,157 missionaries in the field.

After an admirable summing up of the work of the board, the report closed with the following resolutions:

That the assembly commend the board's work and reaffirm its confidence in the members and secretary of the board.

That there be an appeal throughout the church for increased foreign missionary gifts, in order to place a larger force in the field.

That Sabbath school pupils be asked to consecrate their lives to foreign missionary work.

That the assembly commend especially the achievements of the woman's auxiliary of the board, it having raised nearly one-third of all the money spent by the board in the past year.

These resolutions were followed by a splendid address by Rev. W. Vaughn, D. D., of New York, secretary of the board.

With scholarly eloquence and profound spiritual enthusiasm he reviewed the situation in China, Japan, India, To BUILD WASHINGTON CHURCH.

At the afternoon session Wednesday the assembly voted to erect a $40,000 church building in Washington, D. C. Every congregation in the United Presbyterian church is to have a part in the building of this church.

The report of the home mission board to fill up the greater portion of the afternoon session. An interesting feature of the report was a series of talks from self-sacrificing mountain workers, who told of great progress made during the year. Persia and Africa, its opportunities, its difficulties and its challenge to the church.

He was given a prolonged ovation at the close of his address, and the assembly rose and sang "Shall We Whose Souls Are Lighted With Wisdom on High," etc.

This was followed by prayer by Rev. George Alexander, D. D., New York, president of the foreign mission board.

The school loft during the morning session was occupied by foreign missionaries at home on furlough, and around the balcony and across the pipe organ were hung maps and pictures which showed at a glance the comparative progress of Christianity in foreign lands.

MISSIONARIES TALK.

Rev. E. W. Keons, a Korean missionary, spoke briefly on the situation there, and asked the prayers of the church.

Rev. J. G. Garnett, D. D., president of the Union Theological seminary in Nanking, China, gave an interesting talk.

Rev. D. J. Fleming, an Indian missionary, told of Christianity's advance in that country.

Rev. John T. Molloy, a Latin-American missionary, spoke three minutes on the burdens of the masses in Mexico.

He was the last missionary on the program, and at the close of his remarks the missionaries in the choir loft arose, on invitation of Rev. W. R. King, and were applauded by the assembly.

The resolutions of the committee were then adopted, with one added, thanking President Wilson for recognizing the new Chinese republic, and the assembly next passed to the report of the special committee on graded Sabbath school lessons, one of the much-discussed matters before the assembly.

GRADED LESSON REPORT.

The report was presented, first, by Rev. Charles Little, D. D., chairman of the committee and an ex-moderator of the assembly.

In substance, the committee recommended that certain objectionable features of the lessons be withdrawn, that new ones be substituted for them, and the general plan of graded lessons be continued.

On the whole, the report was a victory for conservative theology, and at the same time an approval of the graded lesson system.

Supplementing the report, Rev. Marcus A. Brownson, D. D., of Philadelphia, another member of the committee, read a lengthy manuscript reviewing and explaining the committee's recommendations.

He said the committee found the lessons deficient in the gospel truths as expounded by the Presbyterian doctrine. He said these deficiencies were more of omission, subtraction and diminution rather than denial. He said the lessons make the Bible eminent, but not pre-eminent; efficient, but not sufficient; supreme, but not supernal.

THE RECOMMENDATION.

In conclusion, the committee recommended that when the current series of lessons expire, the board of publication and Sunday school work of the U. S. A. assembly take steps looking to a new syndicate with the publication boards of the other Presbyterian assemblies, for the purpose of issuing a uniform series of lessons for use throughout all Presbyterian Sunday schools.

Dr. Brownson closed with a plea for peace. He said he hoped the report would not provoke a "theological debate," and incidentally he spoke in glowing terms of the prospect of union between all the various Presbyterian groups.

Rev. W. S. Merrill, D. D., of New York, said he didn't like certain features of the report, but in the interest of peace he might be induced to accept it.

Rev. Robert Inglis, of Newark, a member of the committee, urged the adoption of the report as a compromise.

HERESY CHARGE AGAIN.

Rev. James G. Mason, of Metuchen, N. J., opposed the report, charging that it was tainted with heresy, and defending the graded lessons.

He intimated that Rev. Mr. Inglis was the "heretic" he had in mind, but said he would not "pursue him here."

"I will go after him in his own presbytery, which adjoins mine," he added.

The assembly smiled. Rev. Mr. Inglis smiled, and the moderator ruled the speaker out of order.

Then the report was put before the assembly and was adopted, and the committee was discharged.

On behalf of the special committee on work in Europe, Dr. Sylvester Beach, of Montclair, N. J., chairman of the committee, reported encouraging advance in supplying Presbyterian preaching to American students abroad. Dr. Beach was, until March 4 last, the pastor of Woodrow Wilson. The continuation of the work was referred to the home mission board.

The mileage checks were distributed and the assembly adjourned until Thursday afternoon.

MISSION GIVING IN '13 GAINED IN U. S. CHURCH

Home Missions Gained $28,000, Foreign $112,000 Over 1912 Figures

Committee reports on home and foreign missions, showing a flattering gain over the previous year, occupied a greater part of the Wednesday afternoon session of southern Presbyterians at the North Avenue Presbyterian church.

As an accompaniment to these statements of the church's work in missionary fields, representatives from Japan, China, the Cherokee Indian reservation, and of the negro race, spoke on the work in their respective fields.

The report on foreign missions, presented by the chairman, Dr. Samuel M. Fraser, of Staunton, Va., showed a surplus this year of $7,557, against a deficit in 1912 of $104,168. This great showing was due, so the chairman explained, to the tremendous offering of 1913, which amounted to $631,069.

"This has been a memorable year in foreign missions," continued the report of Dr. Fraser. "The immense increase of the amount given eclipses, by far, any other sum previously given, and the department has sent out more missionaries than ever before."

HOME MISSIONS' GREAT YEAR.

Dr. W. McF. Alexander, of New Orleans, La., chairman of the committee on home missions, read the report of the year's work, showing an increase over 1912 of $28,433.60. The total contributions for the year amounted to $154,210.77 and more than 425 missionaries, not counting wives and children but including teachers, were employed at the different posts during the closing year. This is the largest amount of money ever before expended by the home mission board.

"The signal favor of God was never more manifest than is evidenced by the results of this year's home mission work," said Dr. Alexander.

Following the adoption of both of these reports, with all recommendations received with favor by the assembly, missionaries from both home and foreign fields told of their work. Addresses were delivered by Rev. S. M. Erickson, of Japan; Rev. D. W. Richardson, of China; Silas Bacon, a full-blooded Choctaw Indian from the mission at Goodland, Okla., and Rev. I. C. H. Champney, a teacher in one of the negro schools near Montgomery, Ala.

BOMBARD JAPAN WITH PAMPHLETS.

Much interest was manifested in the address of Dr. John Fox, of New York City, secretary of the American Bible society. He declared that it was his belief that the serious Japanese problem which faces this country can be solved by making a new and complete translation of the Bible and deluging the little empire with copies.

"Where would there be a better way for this country to show its true Christian spirit than to bear the expense of such a translation immediately, and pay the money out of our own pockets, in order to send these copies of the Bible to every corner of the empire? I think bring us into a close, brotherly relation with Japan that would go toward eliminating the present war talk," said Dr. Fox.

The speaker explained further that the cost would be only between $30,000 and $40,000 to have this translation made at once. There are now a number of Japanese scholars working on translations of parts of the book, but no definite or complete translation yet has been made. In accordance with the plans of the American Bible society, the money for this purpose may be available for this purpose and the work started at once.

HILL CLIMB ENTRY LIST REOPENED TILL SATURDAY

American Automobile Association Authorizes It Because of Postponement

Several new ones will appear on the list of contestants in the hill climb next Saturday, of the Atlanta Automobile and Accessory association. The entry list has been reopened, under authority of the American Automobile association, because of the postponement; and already a Buick, a Ford and others are reported as having been added to the roll.

The climb will start promptly at 1 o'clock. It was scheduled for last Saturday, but the rain caused a postponement. Some fast time has been made up the hill recently in trial runs, and it is expected that records will be shattered there in the speed trials next Saturday.

The hill is open for practice every afternoon between the hours of 1 and 3 o'clock.

DR. JOHN L. ELLIOTT WILL TALK ON ETHICS THURSDAY

"The possibilities in little children, coupled with their weakness, make their eyes to us as the eyes of God."

This thought from one of the lectures of Dr. John Lovejoy Elliott, of New York, who lectures Thursday night at Cable hall, under the auspices of the committee for ethical lectures explains the wonderful social work Dr. Elliott has been able to accomplish at Hudson Guild and the ethical culture public school, through the children whom he has taught. In his subject tonight, "The Drawing Power of Social Discontent," he will speak of the hope of social redemption which rests upon the moral education of children, teaching them to love the right and to will to do its developing courtesy even in lives of poverty and making the fact knowledge of daily public school training subserve character strength.

CITY HALL CLOSED FOR BALL GAME WEDNESDAY

The city hall was closed at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon by order of Mayor Woodward, so that all employees of officials and employes might be allowed to attend the ball game at Ponce de Leon park, where the Ad Men's club holds sway.

The mayor's order stated that the holiday was given in recognition of the valuable work which the ad men have done in helping city projects and advertising Atlanta. The city hall officials declared they would all be there "with bells on."

YOUNG ACCOUNTANTS TAKING EXAMINATIONS

The semi-annual examination of the corps heard of certified accountants, of which Joel Hunter is chairman, are being held now in the directors' room of the Third National bank, which has loaned for this purpose. The examinations began on Wednesday, with the largest class in the history of the board. The membership is composed of young men from every section of the state. These examinations are conducted in accordance with a law passed by the general assembly in 1908.

SHORT COVERING AND SPOT BUYING CAUSED ADVANCE

Market in New York Closed 13 to 16 Points Higher Than Previous Close

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, May 22.—Cotton opened steady at unchanged prices to an advance of 3 points and sold about 4 to 8 points net higher during early trading on outbreak of covering and a scattering demand. Relatively steady cables, apprehensions of excessive rainfall in the west-belt, and the failure of the market to weaken on the breaking of eastern belt drouth appeared to account for part of the buying and as prices worked above yesterday's high level, a few stop orders were uncovered.

Trading became a little more active later in the morning and prices eased off 3 to 4 points from the best, but the selling was not aggressive enough to cause actual weakness and the market was steady at one point with prices still showing net gains of 2 or 4 points.

Detailed weather reports showing heavy rainfall in the central belt, started active covering during the early afternoon and prices sold about 10 points above yesterday's closing. Realizing checked the advance and caused slight reactions but the market held steady enough to suggest more or less covering over the situation.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, May 22.—Cotton futures opened steady at an advance of 1 to 3 points on good cables and reports of no much rain in the central and western sections of the cotton belt, although the Atlantics all complained that abundant rains had set the crop back. Shorts continued to cover and moderate buying for long account, in evidence, with the result that after the first half hour of business prices were 5 to 6 points over yesterday's close. Reports of cotton blooms at several points in Texas and Louisiana prevented much aggressiveness among the bulls.

While the market sagged several times during the morning the general tendency was to advance and up to time went over the high level of yesterday's close. From the middle of the morning on a certain bullish element gave the market a fair volume of buying orders and this increased the buying of covers for short account, being generally under cover before the pending government report on the condition of the crops and the bulls appeared to be greatly impressed by the claims made by one by two firms that the figures would be under the 5 year average condition of 79.3. At noon prices were 7 to 9 points over yesterday's last quotations.

INTERESTING NEWS AND GOSSIP OF THE MARKETS

Weather Reports, Crop Advices, Expert Opinions and Newspaper Comment

COTTON GOSSIP

Times-Democrat says: Had the bears not sold the market for a beating and piled up a short interest of magnitude there would be little interest in cotton. The cold and almost excellent weather would make the short side seem attractive enough, but the matter of seed, however, is one for the short side is the most influential factor making for a steady market. In addition to this Liverpool would not complain of inability to sell actual cotton in parting quantities, but spot houses on the Continent are disposed to want all the New Orleans contracts the rings will sell, and yesterday had the market been left to its own blocks. In this connection it is interesting to note that the cables have reported the Bremen stock ear-marked for spinners. In the last day or two some of the market bulls have been buying. This shifting of position is strictly in line with other great markets, the wheat, for instance, where the professionals now are reflecting conflicting sentiment which carries one side and sometimes both, each working on the idea and at cross purposes with the others. In the case of cotton the sure shot promises that spinners are the ones to have sup

AMERICAN FASHIONS

By Lillian Young.

Taken as a whole, the evening gowns of the season show the corsage of fine lace or chiffon, or both, one over the other. A charming eccentricity, which is found in many of these, is the bringing up to the sides of the neck and covering the shoulders, so that the decolletage is only seen directly in front and back in the form of a U-shaped opening that drops low, revealing the neck. The blouse portion of the evening gown here shown is made on this plan, with ivory white chiffon forming the side sections and the small tucker over the bust. Both are finished with hemstitched edges. The rest of the gown is made of Nile green brocaded charmeuse. Sleeves of it are set in dropped armholes of the chiffon blouse, and in back and front there are two oddly shaped bib sections that cross each other above the belt and give the appearance of a continuation of the skirt material. These are outlined with a cording of self material.

The trained skirt opens down one side and is slashed at the feet. In front some draping laid in folds falls away along either side, and the rest of the skirt is gathered a little around the waist. There is a crushed girdle with a single sash, and partly covering the front opening of black satin through tulle or chiffon would look softer and more transparent. It is an exceptionally good design, to be developed in a solid white evening gown. In fact, any of the wide range of beautiful evening colors would prove adaptable to it. There was a time when the sash was essentially a feature of the fluffy thin dress, and even then it belonged to the wardrobe of the young girl. But now it has grown in importance, and often forms the one note of contrast, and by numerous odd arrangements the telling feature to an otherwise simple costume.

Mrs. Starbuck's Bridge Party

Mrs. John Starbuck's bridge party was a pleasing event of this afternoon. It was given in compliment to Mrs. Grady Estes, a recent bride, and to Mr. Charles Perry and Mrs. Kiphart, of Cincinnati, the guests of Mrs. L. L. Horner.

Quantities of roses were used in adorning the house, red roses being used in all the rooms except the dining room, where the decorations were in pink and white.

A Cluny cloth covered the table, and in the center a mass of pink blossoms made a pretty spot of color.

The guests included sixteen friends.

The high score prize was a box of correspondence cards, the consolation, a gold hat pin, and the guests' prizes, embroidered handkerchiefs.

To Miss Barnett

Miss Louise Massey will entertain Friday afternoon at bridge in compliment to Miss Sarah Barnett, of Washington, Ga., who is attending commencement at Miss Woodberry's school.

An enjoyable feature of the afternoon was several selections rendered by Madam Charlotte Von Skibinski. The house was decorated with crimson roses and ferns and the score cards were hand-painted with crimson roses.

Those present were Mrs. Henry Mrs. Ballard, Mrs. J. J. Merritt, Mrs. Kline, Mrs. P. S. Carlock, Mrs. Shumaker, Mrs. Eugene S. Towery, Mrs. C. F. Goree, Mrs. O'Donnell, Mrs. Von Skibinski, Mrs. Hubert Lively, Mrs. Mea Quarrells, Mrs. Cochran, Mrs. Lloyd, Miss Golden and Miss Louise Floyd.

Mrs. Max Thomas served punch and Miss Ortha Massey assisted.

Twenty-four guests were included in the party.

Mrs. Selden's Tea to Visitors

Mrs. George K. Selden entertained at tea Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock at her home on Eighth street in compliment to Miss Mary Cody, a bride-elect; Miss Isabel Clarke, of Augusta, who is visiting Miss Eloise Stewart; Miss Lillian Beattey, of Columbus, Ohio, who is the guest of Mrs. Henry Troutman, and to Miss Anne Selden, of Washington, D. C.

The occasion was informal and very pleasant, Mrs. Selden's guests including a small number of friends.

Bridge Tea in Honor Miss Gaut

Miss Mary Gaut, of Nashville, the attractive guest of Mrs. Andrew Calhoun, was the honor guest at an informal bridge party at which her hostess entertained this afternoon.

The game was played in the sun parlor, which was radiant with crimson rambler roses, the lovely flower-covered vines framing the windows and filling great bows and hanging baskets which contrasted with the ferns and growing plants which fill the attractive apartment.

The honor guest was presented a picture frame and the trophies in the game were silk stockings.

Bridge was followed by tea, for which a number of other guests joined the players.

Tea was served in the dining room, where the prettily appointed table had a charming arrangement of sweet peas, the pastel-colored blossoms harmonizing with the rose-colored shades and minor details of the loved table.

The living room and reception hall were aglow with Japanese poppies in flaming red and long-stemmed American beauty roses.

A Good Recipe for Parker House Rolls

2 cups scalded milk, 3 tablespoons Silver-Leaf Lard, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 yeast cake dissolved in ¼ cup lukewarm water. Flour.

Add lard, sugar and salt to milk when lukewarm; add dissolved yeast cake and 3 cups of flour. Beat, cover and let rise until light, cut down and add enough flour to knead. Let rise, knead and roll out. Shape with biscuit cutter. Make a crease across and brush over one half of each with melted lard, fold, let rise, bake in hot oven.

This is the favorite recipe of a famous cook, copied word for word from her book of recipes. You will note that she specifies the brand of lard—

JUNE The MONTH OF WEDDINGS

The pleasure of giving as well as the joy of receiving depends greatly upon the amount of thought and personality used in selecting a gift. In presenting an appropriate, well-chosen gift the idea of dollars and cents value is secondary, as it properly should be.

Now that June, the season of many weddings, is approaching it is well for those contemplating the purchase of gifts to bestir themselves and decide upon what they will give.

THE JOURNAL'S advertising columns offer many suggestions that are timely and valuable. A careful reading will doubtless solve the perplexing question of "what to give."

Using THE JOURNAL'S advertisements as a guide, one not only makes sure of covering a wide variety of possible gifts, but also greatly simplifies the actual purchasing and sending of presents.

WHAT ANNE RITTENHOUSE SAYS

N other days and in hot countries, there was always a fashion among women for simple white net gowns that could wish. They were worn in the afternoon and evening without an attached lining, and were sent to the tub not to the cleaners, when they were soiled.

This fashion is revived. The shops do not offer net gowns made up in the old-fashioned manner, but they offer newer ones in a Bohemian net which often has a design in it. These are exceedingly attractive and serve a dozen purposes through hot weather. They are simple enough to be worn at home, and formal enough to be worn for summer dinner parties when one is not leading an excessively fashionable life at well known resorts.

The lining is negligible and is usually made up of coarse net or very thin China silk, the former is preferred because it makes the gown cooler and one must wear a thin silk slip, or one of batiste, under the gown, whether or not it is lined.

This Bohemian net is a filet weave and is called shadow net as well. It came into fashion a year ago as a means of draping gowns and also for blouses to be worn under thick coat suits; this year it is made up into entire gowns and it is said to wash as well as the wash tulle which was formerly used under the name of net.

There has also been a revival of white cotton point d'esprit for afternoon costumes, and this also is taken up from days when women chose gowns of these fabrics in preference to those of embroidered muslin or printed chiffon. The fashion has come about through the desire for fabrics that were worn in the second empire and were again worn during the civil war. Matelasse is one of these, so is grenadine, marquisette, flowered voile, printed taffeta and blue and yellow striped silk.

It was only natural to bring in point d'esprit and wash net for gowns when these other fabrics had been revived. It is also natural that the dressmakers should put a neat touch to it by using a heavy open net lace that is strong enough to withstand many months of wearing and has enough novelty to serve for next winter, as well as this summer.

Every woman cannot buy this fabric because the shops of every city do not sell it, and if it is not available then one should choose either the plain or dotted net, whichever the shop holds. There is variety in it, and the French dressmakers prefer the weave known as wash tulle, but the trouble with this is its lack of wearing quality for a gown that must serve for day and night. It does very well in a blouse, and for a hat, but for an entire gown and for underwear one needs a more serviceable weave.

How Net Gowns Are Made.

IF a woman is exceedingly slim she can wear the ruffled skirts which fashion again approves, and they look very well in net. There is first a slim foundation which has no flare at the hem, and over this is arranged three flounces with slight gathers at the head and two flat tucks at the hem. The modern fashion does not allow any kind of flounce that spreads out and breaks the line of a slender silhouette, but it does allow as many ruffles as one wishes, if they are kept within the law.

The blouse to this skirt is slightly gathered to a shoulder yoke which is in turn with seam banding, and there is a Romney collar of the material which is high at the neck in the back and runs to a point at the bust line in front. Do you know these collars? They are called Marie Antoinette fichus, as well as Romney and Rasbourn collars, but whatever name they go by they are exceedingly fashionable.

Here is the way they are made. Soft material, like lace or tulle, is folded over a series of high feather bones at the back to hold it up against the neck, the folds are then drawn loosely around the neck, where they are looped up in order that the fulness above may not be stretched into a tight line. There is an edge of lace and a V shaped opening about two inches wide.

This is an exceedingly becoming arrangement for a slender woman and one that has many merits because it allows a gown to be worn afternoons and evenings. It has not the square neck effect of a gown which is surplice, back and front. There is no denying that it is not quite easy to make, unless one sees it on a blouse or looks up a picture by Romney or Raeburn and sees how it was worn by the women whom they immortalized on canvas.

This arrangement, by the way, is a good one to insert on a frock of black or dark satin, for making it high enough at the back, and drawing it close enough in the front, one gets a cool collar that has none of the commonplaceness of the Robespierre and the Medici.

With such a net gown, made with a slightly ruffled skirt and the loose simple blouse, there is a high girdle of plain satin ribbon which is boned to remain above the waist line, as nearly all the fashionable ones are. This can be finished with a flat buckle made of shirred taffeta, or one of flat chiffon roses. It is better to keep the latter for evening wear and use the former for the afternoon hours.

Thin Linings for Thin Gowns.

THERE are two admirable models that the specialty shops are showing in Bohemian lace and net, which are not high in price and can be worn next winter as theater or dinner gowns, if they survive the summer. One has a knife pated lower skirt, which is fitted straight at the hem by stitches, and a straight, slim tunic of lace, that hangs from waist to knee. The blouse is cut in kimono shape and does not pretend to follow the lines of the figure, and is, therefore, more comfortable for hot weather than any other kind.

It is slightly low at the back, but very little, and runs to a deep V in front, with a careless plaiting of white tulle as an edge. The sleeves reach nearly to the elbows and are made of the lace loosely drawn up from the back over a half tight sleeve of plain white net. There is a boned girdle of blue satin ribbon, which has one end that slips through the lace goes below the neck and is arranged in a bow at the knee.

This is lined with a coarse white net which has enough body to keep the outer drapery in place and hold it firm. Those who sew at home should adopt this idea and not use a separate or an attached lining of silk or satin. This has been the approved method, but the use of the coarse net is really a better one.

Of course, it is too transparent to be worn without a slip of some kind beneath, and this should be of thin white messaline that has no trimming except a flat band of lace at the feet line and a fold of white wash net at the top which is drawn into the figure with white ribbon.

THE EVENING STORY

(Copyright, 1913, by W. Werner.)

Rossiter's Find

REALLY, Bob, one would think that I didn't have a particle of sense." Mrs. Rossiter's eyes bamed as she handed her husband his second cup of coffee.

"Don't get huffy, Nan," he replied cheerfully. "I merely mentioned the fact that all women are more or less anxious to make a bang-up show at all times. Jim Kemp was to me to take the stone to a friend of his in the business and get a second valuation. No use squabbling over it, Nan," he went on as he arose from the table. "After today we won't have to worry as to its safety. Kemp wants to see the stone tonight. Tomorrow I'll take it down to the office and put it in the vault."

TO KILL TIME HE HAD GONE AFTER CLAMS.

"You won't do anything of the kind. It's perfectly unsafe here. The pearl will not leave the house with my consent."

"All right." Rossiter moved toward the door with imperturbable good humor. "Thank goodness, it won't be long before that pearl represents the cottage I've dreamed of. We can get a dandy for $1,500."

A few days previous Rossiter had returned from a fishing trip. On a river a few hours' ride from the city, he owned a frontage of several hundred feet. One of his cherished dreams was that some day he would be in a position to erect a summer abode, as he termel it. Somehow the fulfillment of the dream, year after year, seemed in a very distant future, until this fishing trip. There had been "nothing doing" with the finny tribe, so, to kill time, he had gone after clams. In one he discovered a pearl.

When he returned to the city he took it at once to a jeweler, who, to his astonishment, valued it at $1,000. Undoubtedly it would be a difficulty in getting $1,500 for it. His dream cottage would become a reality.

But he reckoned without Nan. She had never been enthusiastic over the cottage idea. She could not help thinking that Bob might at least have suggested the advisability of keeping the pearl. He knew that for ages she had longed for a necklace. Bob's talk about having the cottage in view of the prospective building site in Maine, would have the cottage planned and erected before she knew where she was.

She went about her work aimlessly. The club reception was a month off. In fancy she saw herself bedecked in her most beautiful gown of the shade of the American beauty, the exquisiteness of her costume enhanced by a perfectly lavalliere.

She pondered long over her solitary luncheon and finally decided that it would be an excellent plan to dine downtown. Bob always admired beautiful jewelry. A fashionable setting, of course, they would see numerous bits. If she could get him in the least enthusiastic— At any rate, it would be worth trying.

She went to the telephone to suggest dining out, but the wire was out of order. Just then the door bill rang.

A young man stood in the vestibule, hat in hand. "Mrs. Rossiter?" he questioned, smiling pleasantly. "Mr. Simpson," in response to her inquiring, "Yes?"

She looked frankly bewildered. "Mr. —Simpson?"

"The jewel expert," he hastened to assure her. "Possibly Mr. Rossiter did not mention my name when he telephoned you."

"I don't understand," she replied, her perplexity deepening. "I have had no communication from Mr. Rossiter."

"No? That's strange!" Mr. Simpson's brows drew together in a puzzled frown. "It isn't an hour since he called up our place to make an appointment with me. He wants my valuation, and this pearl he has found. told him I had business out this way that I would run in and look at it. He said he would be home."

In a flash it came to her—the expert Jim Kemp had in view. Bob had evidently phoned him. Then their own dead line came to her. It was all right, of course; still she hesitated. Her words of the morning came to her: "I never show it to any one." It might be better—

"I don't suppose," she suggested, "you could possibly come in this evening when Mr. Rossiter is here?"

Mr. Simpson considered a moment, then said doubtfully: "You are a little out of the way here for me, but still I am going out of the city tomorrow for several days, and Mr. Rossiter seems anxious—why, look here, Mrs. Rossiter," very briskly, "I'll do that for you. I quite understand how you feel about it now," smilingly. "You're a very sensible woman."

Mr. Simpson's eyes were so charmingly frank that, instead of thanking him for his courtesy, Nan felt like humbly apologizing for what must appear downright distrust. As she hesitated, confusedly, Mr. Slimpson snapped his fingers in dismay.

"By Jove! I forgot—awfully sorry, Mrs. Rossiter. For a moment an engagement—bridge club my wife and I belong to—entirely escaped me. It's too bad. I'd like to examine the pearl, with your husband, but of course, it is not as though the pearl is to be sold. It yill be here, I suppose, for some time? It may be that on my return some evening—"

"Oh, but it won't be here any time. And it is to be sold." Nan's tone was openly lugubrious.

Mr. Simpson eyed her curiously, keenly, before he said slowly: "You don't intend keeping the pearl?"

"No; that is, Mr. Rossiter says not."

"But you would like to?"

"Love to! It would make such a beautiful pendant, and—"

"I'd like to show Mr. Rossiter some of our necklaces," Mr. Simpson interrupted, his eyes fixed immovably on her eager face. "From what I've heard of the pearl it should make up exquisitely."

"I know it." Nan exclaimed, triumphantly. "I'm just crazy for a LaVallere. Really, Mr. Simpson, it's a beautiful stone. Perhaps—" She stepped back into the hall and said, imulsively: "Come in and just take a peep at it, won't you?"

Mr. Simpson laughed amusedly. "Well, just a peep. We'll examine it minutely later."

At first Nan thought Mr. Simpson looked rather indifferently as he glanced at the stone, but as he examined it more carefully a look of unfeigned admiration crossed his face. He turned to her eagerly. Just then a bell at the rear of the house rang.

"Just a moment," Nan said, and hurried out of the room.

When she returned a few moments later she paused in the doorway in blank amazement and looked wildly around. Then, with a great cry, she dashed to the table where the box lay that had held the pearl ever since Bob had brought it home. It was empty. With a little moaning cry, she started back, and for one breathless moment stood speechless, tense, one thought only hammering at her brain—the pearl was gone! Bob's pearl that was to do so much for him. As the last thought came the spell which held her was broken. Thoughts, plans, raced through her mind. This Mr. Simpson was an imposter. The "agent" who had detained her at the rear was his accomplice. She rushed to the telephone; still there was silence—a silence she now felt to mean a cut wire. Instantly she was out of the house and over a neighbor's telephone excitedly informing the police. Then she got Bob and broke down.

AS THE LAST THOUGHT CAME THE SPELL WHICH HELD HER WAS BROKEN.

"For heaven's sake, Nan," he cried, "tell me sensibly what you mean; what's that? What! The pearl gone! A jewel expert! You've notified the police? Describe him? Then I'm off to the central detail."

Dimly she heard the receiver click back into the hook and she went home to pace restlessly back and forth through long minutes of misery. Strange to say, she was not thinking so much of the actual loss of the pearl, the lavalliere she had completely forgotten, but of Bob's disappointment. Bob, who longed for that little cottage as a place to have always for his own, where he might steal off to now and then, and free for a time he rid of the fret and bustle of the city. It had not appealed to her in that way at all when the pearl was in their possession, but now the enormity of her selfishness came to her. She turned to the window, wringing her hands helplessly, and saw Bob run quickly up the steps. She was at the door, utter misery in her eyes, when he entered.

"Oh, Bob," she cried, "I'm just crazy. I'm so sorry!" Her head went down on his shoulder. "I told you this morning I never showed it to any one. And I wouldn't have, if it hadn't been for my detestable vanity, for that's what it was—my extravagant idea of a—"

"But, Nan," at last Rossiter got in a word in the storm of sobs and broken statements, "hold on a minute—"

"What's the use?" she asked, wildly. "It's my fault. You don't understand. I hated the idea of your cottage; I wanted—oh, Bob, I was contemptible! And now we won't have anything!"

"But we will," he cried, "if you'll only let me get a word in. See here, your expert is about five blocks from here, in a police station. Get into your duds as quickly as you can. You've got to identify him."

"At the station."

"Oh," she exclaimed as she collapsed completely. "Bob Rossiter, as soon as we get our hands on it again, you get busy on that shack."

LITTLE STORIES FOR BED TIME

By Thornton W. Burgess

(Copyright, 1913, by J. G. Lloyd.)

"I don't believe it," said Johnny Chuck.

"But I tell you it is so," insisted Sammy Jay. "I guess I can believe my own eyes. I tell you I saw your baby Chuck sitting on Farmer Brown's doorstep and drinking milk from a bottle held by Farmer Brown's boy."

Johnny Chuck stamped a foot impatiently and angrily. "Go home, Sammy Jay! Go home!" he stormed. "Wasn't it bad enough to tell me that my baby had a chance to come home and wouldn't without adding such a story as this? Don't you suppose I feel badly enough without being made fun of in this way? Go home, Sammy Jay. You're bad!"

Sammy Jay's heart swelled with anger, and his eyes snapped. Here he had been trying to do Johnny Chuck a good turn by finding out for him what had become of his baby Chuck, who had been carried off by Farmer Brown's boy, and this was the thanks he got. You see Sammy had quite forgotten that people who have the name of being bad are seldom trusted, even when they are really trying to be good.

"It's no such thing. I'm not bad—not now, anyway," screamed Sammy. "I'll never, never try to help you again, Johnny Chuck, and I don't care now what happens to your baby or whether he ever comes home or not. If you won't believe other people you better go see for yourself. You just don't dare to."

"I will"" shouted Johnny Chuck, as Sammy Jay flew off to the Green Forest to tell every one he met about what he had seen at Farmer Brown's. If course Peter Rabbit was one of the first to hear the news. Late that afternoon he hurried up to the old orchard to hear what Johnny Chuck would say. Johnny was very glad, very glad, indeed, to see Peter.

"Oh, Peter Rabbit," he cried "I'm going up to Farmer Brown's dooryard to find out what has become of my lost baby and—and—I don't know the way. Will you show me, Peter?"

Peter looked a little bit startled. "When are you thinking of going up there, Johnny Chuck?" he asked.

Peter scratched his head thoughtfully. That was really the safest time to go, and Peter had great faith in his own long legs to take him to a safe place if there should be need. "I'll go," said he.

So the next morning, when the first of the dark night shadows slipped away, Peter Rabbit and Johnny Chuck stole out of the old orchard and up behind the woodpile in Farmer Brown's dooryard. Bowser the Hound was asleep. They could hear him snoring in his little house. They peeped out from behind the woodpile. Peter pointed out the box in which the baby Chuck was kept, then he sat up to watch while Johnny Chuck hurried over to the box. There he found the hole made by Prickly Porky, but as Sammy Jay had said. A little feeling of shame crept over Johnny Chuck as he remembered how he had refused to believe Sammy Jay.

"I've come to take you home," whispered Johnny Chuck.

Johnny Chuck just gasped. Could he really believe what he heard? Then the baby Chuck told him what a good time he was having, what good things he had to eat, how good Farmer Brown's boy was to him, how he could dig in the garden and do as he pleased, and how he had made friends with Bowser the Hound. And so, concluded the baby Chuck, "I am going to stay right here." And nothing that Johnny Chuck could say made him change his mind.

Johnny Chuck and Peter Rabbit didn't say a word until they had reached the doorstep of Johnny Chuck's house in the far corner of the old orchard, but they were doing a lot of thinking.

"Perhaps," said Johnny Chuck, as he bade Peter good-by, "perhaps Farmer Brown's boy isn't so bad after all."

"Perhaps he isn't," said Peter.

Probably the surest way of making mayonnaise dressing that has curdled regain its smooth. thick consistency is to beat up another yolk, add a little oil to it and beat it until it is smooth and thick, and then add the curdled dressing little by little until it is thoroughly incorporated with the new. This method is tedious, but it is sure.

Another method of making curdled mayonnaise "come back" is to beat an egg white stiff and add the curdled mayonnaise to it. This method takes only a few minutes, for the mayonnaise can be added quickly after the first spoonful is put in slowly.

Apply in the morning and it will not rub off nor show, but will keep the skin smooth, clear and satiny.

"Don't get discouraged if your hair comes out when combing. Your hair is coming out because of parasites that prey upon it and cause it to become dull and brittle. These parasites are removed by Mother's Shampoo. This can be purchased in any neighborhood. It makes the hair rich, fine and fluffy.

"Hair removers should be painless, quick in action and safe. Delatone answers these requirements. Make a little paste with powdered delatone and water, cover the hair or face to be removed for two minutes, wipe off, wash the skin and the hairs will be gone.

"Pimples, skin eruptions and certain kinds of eczema are speedily banished by Mother's Salve. This old-time household remedy quickly heals sores, cuts and burns without leaving a scar. It is cooling, soothing and antiseptic."—(Advt.)

Go and LookIn Your Mirror

Gray hair adds fully to years to your looks. Go and look in your mirror, and look without seeing those white hairs. Why, your eyes are brighter, and your cheeks actually glow with pleasure. What a difference those few white hairs make. Would look five years younger than Mrs. Blank next door, if it wasn't for those few white hairs, and another year or so and your whole head will be gray.

Not necessarily. We give you our positive guarantee (and our guarantee has never yet failed) that our Robinnaire Hair Dye will restore your hair to its own original color and beauty without injuring hair or scalp and it will make your hair soft and keep it in fine condition. It is not a vulgar bleach or artificial coloring. It is a restorative to bring back to the hair its natural color and life.

If you have dandruff you use a hair tonic to cure it; and if your hair is fading and turning gray and lifeless you should use a restorative to renew its life and color. Both troubles result from diseases of the scalp, and there is no more reason why you should reject a pure color restorative than that you should reject a good dandruff tonic. Think this over. Remember, Ten years younger!

We prepare Robinnaire's Hair Dye for light, medium and dark brown and black hair. Try it immediately with a 25c trial size and see the remarkable result. Tarial size 25c, by mail 31c; large size, 75c; by mail 83c. For sale by all Jacobs' Pharmacy Stores and Druggists generally.—(Advt.)

THE SWING

BY ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON

How do you like to go up in a swing,
Up in the air so blue?
Oh, I do think it the pleasantest thing
Ever a child can do!

Up in the air and over the wall,
Till I can see so wide,
Rivers and trees and cattle and all
Over the countryside—

Till I look down on the garden green
Down on the roof so brown—
Up in the air I go flying again,
Up in the air and down!

ALMOST GOT PAST GOING
Miss Duff Writes Interesting Statement For Publication in the Behalf of Women.

Webster Springs, W. Va.—In an interesting letter from this place, Miss Annie Duff says: "I had been afflicted with womanly trouble for three years, and felt weak all the time.

My back and sides ached so, I almost got past going.

I had used a great many different kinds of remedies, but they failed to do me any good.

I had heard of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and decided to try it. When I had used the third bottle of Cardui, I felt like a new person entirely. I gained both in health and weight.

I praise Cardui for my recovery and good health, and I feel sure it will do the same for others as it has for me if they will only give it a trial."

The above letter is an earnest, frank statement of Miss Duff's opinion of Cardui. She has confidence in it, because it relieved her, after many different kinds of other remedies had failed, and she believes it will help you just as it did her if you will give it a fair trial.

We join Miss Huff in urging you to give Cardui a trial. It cannot harm you, and, judging from the experience of thousands of others, is almost sure to do you good.

REAL FASHIONS ON REAL PEOPLE ON THE STAGE

The Stage in America Holds the Looking Glass Up to Fashion, if It Does Not Always Hold the Mirror Up to Nature

Here are three "lovely ladies" who are showing some frocks that can be copied by the up-to-date girl.

If you are a tall and slender girl and can wear your hair with a Greek fillet, an evening dress along Greek lines will be especially charming.

Miss Anna Wilkes, in the "Purple Road," is wearing this kind of a costume, simply long breadth of pale blue embroidered chiffon gathered about the waist and bound below the hips with a silver cord. The bodice is cut all in one piece and trimmed with silver cords. With this Miss Wilkes wears silver slippers and a silver fillet about her waist.

Miss Constance Hunt, in "The Sunshine Girl," is wearing a beautiful black satin faille brocaded in silver. This coat is tied at the waist with a wide black sash and has revers of shadow lace.

Miss Hunt wears with this costume a large black hat, the white rose in in front. This suit will be copied most charmingly for a tall girl, in navy blue satin and navy blue brocaded chiffon. The gown is so simple that a girl with the aid of a good home dressmaker could make it herself.

Clothes look differently on real people than they do when drawn by the fashion designers. This tailor-made gown on Miss Edna Hunter, who wears it in "Her Little Highness," is exceedingly charming. It has two or three new points: First, the mannish cut of the cut-away coat with its white waist coat, then the braid down the sides and around the bottom of the skirt make this frock exceedingly up-to-date.

A very feminine touch is the low neck blouse worn with this tailored suit and the dainty black turban with its mustard-colored feathers.

Miss Oliver's Bridge Party

Miss Eloise Oliver's bridge party in compliment to Miss Elizabeth Boyd, of Clearwater, Fla., who is visiting Miss Carolyn King, was a pleasant event of Thursday afternoon.

A profusion of sweet peas formed the decorations of the rooms where the card tables were placed, the lovely flowers being arranged in French baskets, and in the dining room a plateau of the vari-colored blossoms formed the center of the tea table.

The prizes for top score, consolation and the souvenir for the guest of honor were silk stockings.

Miss Oliver wore a lovely gown of shadow lace draped over a foundation of soft chiffon, a rose-colored satin girdle giving a lovely touch of color to the pretty costume.

Miss Boyd wore with a gown of pink embroidered crepe meteor a large picture hat connected with pink roses.

The guests of the occasion included Miss Elizabeth Boyd, Miss Carolyn King, Miss Adeline Thomas, Miss Frances Connally, Miss Josephine Stoney, Miss Susie Hallman, Miss Courtenay Harrison, Miss Marion Goldsmith, Miss Hildreth Burton Smith, Miss Martha Francis, Miss Aurelia Speer, Miss Katherine Ellis, Miss Elizabeth Morgan, Miss Emily Winship, Miss Annie Lee McKenzie, Miss Sarah Rawson, Miss Marion Woodward, Miss Marjorie Brown, Miss Margaret Hawkins, Miss Nancy Hill Hopkins, Miss Clifford West, Miss Harriet Orr, Miss Penelope Clark, Mrs. Charles Shelton, Jr., and Mrs. William Schroder.

For Mrs. Lively

A number of patries are being given complimentary to Mrs. Jack Lively, who will leave next week for western Canada.

Tuesday morning Mrs. John Ivins entertained two tables at bridge at her home in West End.

Mrs. John W. Lively entertained in honor of her daughter-in-law Thursday afternoon. Her home on Lucile avenue was made attractive with decorations of daisies and Mareschal Nell roses, the pretty flowers being arranged in bowls.

Twenty-five guests were included in the party.

Mrs. Woolley's Tea To Mrs. Seydel

Mrs. Vasser Woolley was hostess at tea Thursday afternoon at her home on Spring road, in compliment to Mrs. Paul Seydel, of New York, the guests of the occasion including a number of Mrs. Seydel's friends.

The lovely home was transformed for the occasion into the semblance of a garden, the drawing room where the guests were received was banked with palms and growing plants, and vases and jardinieres were filled with great clusters of Dorothy Perkins roses.

In the dining room a large French basket holding quantities of sweet peas graced the center of the tea table, pink tapers burned under rose-colored shades, and the ices and bonbons continued the rose suggestion.

Punch was served on the veranda by a group of lovely young girls, among whom were Miss Virginia Lipscomb, Miss Bertha Moore, Miss Margaret McCarthy and Miss Marion Woolley.

Mrs. Woolley was costumed in pink embroidered crepe draped over a foundation of rose-colored charmeuse, the corsage effectively veiled with lace.

Mrs. Seydel wore an imported gown of white chiffon draped over heavy lace, postel colors of French embroidery were introduced on the bodice and continued in the high satin girdle, a corsage bouquet of pink roses completing the lovely costume.

Mrs. James Jackson's gown of black charmeuse satin had overdrapery of black lace, a touch of gold embroidery giving a pretty finish to the corsage.

Receiving with Mrs. Woolley and Mrs. Seydel were Mrs. James Jackson, Mrs. W. D. Ellis, Jr., Mrs. Rutherford Lipscomb, Mrs. John M. Slaton, Mrs. Hugh Willet, Mrs. William Hurd Silliyer, Mrs. Ronald Ransom, Mrs. W. N. Sloton, Mrs. Charles J. Haden, Mrs. John M. Moore, Mrs. Shepard Bryan, Mrs. George Brown, Mrs. Hugh McKee, Mrs. Edward Brown, Mrs. B. M. Woolley.

THEATERS

ATLANTA—"The Deep Purple."
FORSYTH—Vaudeville.
BIJOU—Vaudeville and pictures.

Every performance at the busy Forsyth this week has been played to the holding capacity of the theater, according to the management.

The Gillette monkeys win a laughing hit that has a big value. The monks' rough-house bowling game is one of the funniest stunts that has been seen on a local stage.

Next week's bill has been prepared. Maggie Cline, the character comedienne who has been on the vaudeville stage longer than any of the known headliners, and who was a favorite long before some of the modern stars were born, will be the star attraction of the bill. She is going to sing the good old songs of Ireland in a fashion that only Maggie Cline can sing. The Great Howard, the famous Scotch ventriloquist; Madden and Fitzpatrick, in their classy playlet, The Wanderer," and others, are on the bill.

Tonight the Atlanta is open again. "The Deep Purple" is the bill which the Billy Long stock company is presenting. It will remain at the theater through Saturday night with a matinee on Satuday. It is a melodrama of New York crook life and is interesting from curtain rise to fall. A fine love story permeates it all the way.

Next week the company will present "St. Elmo," the book play. This play was selected by audiences at the theater last week, the voting being by all odds in its favor over a list of fine plays some of which were new to Atlanta. Seats are now selling for the week.

The success of tabloid musical comedy at the Bijou has exceeded expectations of the management. Patrons of the house have welcomed the change. "A Trip to Joyville" is a melange of music, comedy, and clever vaudeville acts, and the performance from start to finish is bright, up-to-date and pleasing, and it is not surprising that patrons of the Bijou have taken to this form of entertainment and are patronizing the house in greater numbers than ever before. The musical numbers are all new and well rendered, the costumes are clean and pleasing, and the scenic effects are good. The chorus is well drilled and is made up of young and pretty girls. During the week matinees will be given every afternoon at 3 o'clock, except on Saturday, when two matinees will be given at 2 and 4. Night shows 7:30 to 9.

For next week the management announces another musical farce, "The District Leader." This is said to be one of the best musical comedies on the circuit.

Mr. E. Z. Skillern Dead

Mr. E. Z. Skillern, aged 76 years, died at noon Thursday at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. E. H. Levert, 32 Dixie avenue, Inman park. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Mobile Gulls, League Leaders, Here for First Trip of Year

Mobile Gulls Are in Town For Battles

Mike Finn Will Play Three With Crackers – Gulls Well Balanced and Team Is Now Leading the League

The Mobile club had finally dropped down to its true playing form and Thursday afternoon opens a three game series with the Atlanta Crackers. In the first game Billy Campbell, Mike Finn's star southpaw, will work and will be opposed by either Gilbert Price or Jim Brady. Hostilities will start at 3:45 o'clock.

Right at present the Gulls are leading the league by a margin of 6 1-2 games, with the Crackers tied for second place. In the three games here the Atlanta bunch has a good chance of getting safely in second place and at the same time pulling down the Mobile outfit. In Mobile Mike Finn won four in a row from Atlanta and the Crackers are out for revenge.

With the Mobile club are several mighty good players who are to be seen here for the first time Thursday afternoon. Al O'Dell, the ex-Cracker, will be along at his post at third base. The new player on the infield is Stock, recently secured from the Giants. In the outfield Finn will present Dave Robertson, who is at present topping the hitters of the circuit and at the same time fielding in grand style. He looks to be a wonder and is sure to be right around the top in all departments of play. This lad belongs to the New York Giants and is sure to again go up.

In Cavet, W. Robertson, Campbell, Berger and Hogg, the Mobile club has one of the most dependable hurling corps in the league, and they are bound to give the Crackers some trouble. Hogg is going like a house afire to be so young at the game, and a great future is predicted for him. Billy Campbell is the same old winning southpaw, while Berger and Cavet are just as good as last season, when they helped Mike Finn make a grand race for the rag.

Bowman Takes Game

BOWMAN, Ga., May 22.—Elberton again went down in defeat in the last game played of the commencement series yesterday, Bowman winning by the score of 10 to 7. The surprise of the game was the large number of hits the Bowmanites secured from Alford, who is reputed to be the best pitcher in this section and a "pride of Elberton."

Batteries: Alford and Harper; Rich, Burden and Burden.

Ed. Alperman New Cracker; Reports Today

Whitey's Brother Will Try for Utility Job With Crackers—Is Said to Be Hard Hitting Outfielder

The Atlanta club Wednesday purchased from the Muscatine team of the Central association Outfielder Edward Alperman and the new man is expected to join the locals within the next day or so. Alperman is known as a hard hitter and it is possible that he will be retained as utility man.

At the close of last season the Atlanta club made an effort to land Alperman but failed and since that time they have been hot on his trail. The deal was a straight purchase and in case the new outfielder, who is a brother of the Atlanta field captain, does not make good he will be sent to some good club in some minor league in this section.

Alperman is a very young player and has a bright future before him. He can hit hard, is a good outfielder and reports have it that he can run the bases with the very best. Right now there is no place for him in the Atlanta outfield, Long, Welchonce and Bailey being good enough for anybody.

Last season with Muscatine Alperman was in 125 games and had 475 at bats, made 57 runs, 133 hits, sacrificed 15 times and stole 25 bags. This gave him a batting average of 280. In the field he had 234 putouts, 31 assists and 12 errors for an average of 957.

STOVALL TO AGAIN LEAD

CHICAGO, May 22.—The termination of the suspension of George Stovall, manager of the St. Louis Americans, will be a matter of his own decision probably today. President B. B. Johnson, of the American league, announced last night he had sent a letter to President Hedges, of the St. Louis Americans, saying that he was prepared to reinstate Stovall on compliance with certain conditions.

The nature of the conditions is not known. Mr. Hedges probably will make public the contents of the letter today.

Stovall has been out of the game three weeks, following his dispute with Umpire Ferguson.

STREET CLAIMS THE FLAG FOR CHATTANOOGA TEAM

The Ex-Washington Receiver Thinks That With Present Hurling Staff Elberfeld Will Have the Flag Easily

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., May 22.—No less a personage than Charles "Gabby" Street, the self-same gent who first handled the slants of Walter Johnson and first speared a dropping spheroid from the Washington monument, is willing to wager his coin of the realm, nor does he ask odds, that the Noogans will win the bunting if "Lefty" Hunt, whom the locals have just secured from Spokane, lives up to the recommendation of old Herre Meek and proves a winning flinger in this league. It is no idle exaggeration to say that there are other followers of the national pastime whose opinion coincides with that of Street.

The Lookouts with their present array look as strong if not stronger than any aggregation in the league. In Coveleskie, Sommers and More, Elberfeld already has a trio of pitchers who as a whole are unsurpassed by any in the league and equaled only by perhaps Hogg, Berger and Cavet, of the Gulls. Now annex Hunt, provided he is not overrated, and throw in Jimmy Dygert, with his noodle and spray nozzle as a S. O. S. flinger, and the Kid has a staff which is tremendously formidable. All five of the men mentioned are sterling hurlers, but their effectiveness is even greater when their slants are handled by Street. Th ex-Senator is putting up one of the greatest games ever seen on the local lot.

The infield just at present as it has finally been arranged is air-tight. Gillespie on third, though he is not hitting, is ..eiding in phenomenal style. The Kid, at short, and Flick, at second, are playing wonderful ball and hitting terrifically. Coyle, at first, has improved 100 per cent over his early season form. Mickey reported late and is just hitting his stride.

Williams, in left, has put the outfield in grand shape and it is not likely that any change will be made in the garden unless Johnston, who has not yet arrived, shows phenomenal form. The club as a whole is in wonderful spirits and is fighting every inch of the way under the Kid's leadership and there is not a man upon the squad that does not believe that the team has an even chance for the bunting. Lookout for the Lookouts!

TRAVERS WINS THE MEDAL FOR THE QUALIFYING SCORE

NEW YORK, May 22.—Playing almost faultless golf in the first half of the qualifying round and making good recoveries out of trouble on two holes in the latter half, Jerome D. Travers, of Upper Montclair, N. J., the national and metropolitan amateur champion, outclassed a field of ninety players at the course of the Metropolitan club, Staten Island. Travers turned in a card of 73 for the first round and 78 on his second trip, winning the gold medal with a total of 151 for 36 holes. Travers' 73 for the first half was equalled by H. V. Gaines, of the Wykagyl club, but this player took 85 for the second round.

Walter J. Travis wrenched his knee during practice yesterday and was so badly handicapped by the injury that he failed to qualify for the final round in the championship division. Following are the thirty-two who qualified:

Jerome D. Travers, Montclair, N. J., 15; H. V. Gaines, Wykagyl, N. Y., 158; T. V. Bermingham, Wyyagyl, 158; A. F. Kammer, Fox Sills, 160; H. K. Kerr, Bay Shore, L. HOW GAMES WERE WON

Philadelphia handed the Cincinnati team the worst defeat that has been handed a team this year yesterday. They beat the Ohio boys by the large score of 12 to 6. They drove two pitchers from the mound and got twenty hits that netted thirty-one bases. Cravath, right fielder for Philadelphia, hit the ball safe five times out of five times up.

A second New York team took the count yesterday. And at the hands of a St. Louis team. The Highlanders got only one hit, while St. Louis hit the pill for nine safeties. The final score was 5 to 0. This was the worst defeat that the New York teams were given yesterday.

The Cubs were in great form yesterday and beat Boston 6 to 5, although a batting rally in the eighth came near ending the battle otherwise. With the score 5 to 0 in the eighth, Neuhaus blew and Boston scored five tallies. The batting of Zimmerman was the feature of the game, he getting a home run in the third with men on the bags.

The Pittsburg team again upset the dope and yesterday afternoon defeated the Brooklyn leaders by the score of 5 to 2. The game was Brooklyn's until the eighth, when the Yanigan pitches broke up the inner defense and scored a total of three runs.

Although New York got nine hits and St. Louis only four, the Missouri boys got the big end of the score, defeating the New Yorkers 4 to 3 in a very exciting game. Tesreau struck out five men and Sallee only two.

In a batting bee yesterday Boston edged by a victory over the Chicago team by the margin of one run, the final count being 10 to 9 in favor of Boston. The hitting was free-from the beginning to the end. The big feature of the game was a running one-hand stab by Speaker of a long drive by Collins that looked good for the whole circuit. Speaker made the day by his catch, he having to go to the scoreboard to get it.

Elliot Dent, the new pitcher, came near making good on the jump yesterday, but the fatal seventh had to come and he blew sky high. Memphis taking the last game of the series by the score of 7 to 5, when Atlanta had the game up in the eighth 6 to 4. Dent had allowed only two scratch hits until the seventh and then the story ended for Atlanta.

A batting rally in the ninth and tenth were the cause of Washington's victory over Cleveland yesterday. With a man on in the ninth, Williams bolled out a home run and tied the score. In the tenth Washington scored two more on six hits off Indian and Walters, a sacrifice fly and a wild throw by Pitcher Gregg. The final count was 5 to 3.

ODDS ON AMERICAN TEAM FAST GROWING SMALLER

NEW YORK, May 22.—Odds on the American polo team for the coming matches against the English four at Meadowbrook are rapidly shortening. Whereas it was possible to secure as high as 3 to 1 against the challengers a month ago, the prevailing quotations at the present time are 8 to 5 and shrewd followers of the game are predicting that even money wagering will be in order when the rival teams mount their ponies for the first match of the series next month.

This marked change is due to the impression made by the English players and their ponies since their arrival at the Piping Rock club for practice. The Long Island Country club colonies contain a large number of expert polo critics and they have been impressed with the ability of the invading players. In practice, the English team, consisting of Captain Cheape, Edwards, Ritson and Lockett, and F. M. Freake, as reserve, has shown some wonderful team play and riding. The direction and length of the shots made by the English four and the clever manner in which they ride in offensive and defensive formations has opened the eyes of the Average American polo follower. There is nothing but praise for the English ponies from horsemen who are familiar with the points that go to make up the ideal polo ponies.

Large sums already have been wagered, bet in this city and abroad on the outcome of the matches but there is no apparent tendency to call a halt by the backers of the two teams, though the odds are steadily shortening. According to some calculations close to a million dollars will be at stake when the players scrimmage for the ball in the opening games.

Atlanta Best In Every Way Over Memphis

Local Bunch Outhit and Outfielded Turtles in the Three Game Series—Improvement in Fielding Was Good

In the series between the Crackers and the Turtles the figures show that the Crackers not only outfielded the Turtles, but outbatted them. It is true then that the locals have at last hit their stride and now are going at a good clip.

With the strengthening of the pitching staff and a little get-together work on the part of the whole team, Atlanta will soon be at the top of the list again.

The figures show that Atlanta was at the bat 107 times and got 26 hits, this giving the Crackers an average of .243. The Turtles were at bat 97 times and got 23 hits, thus giving them a batting average of .237. The Turtles fielded .900 for the series, while the Crackers handled the ball in almost perfect style, having the average of .977.

Batting figures:

	AB.	H.	Av.
Atlanta	107	26	.243
Memphis	97	23	.237

Fielding figures:

	PO.	A.	E.	FA.
Atlanta	81	36	2	.977
Memphis	78	37	3	.900

SOMEBODY IS DUE THE CAN

LAGRANGE, Ga., May 22.—The bugs here are working overtime trying to explain Wednesday's affair. Tuesday the locals took on the fast bunch from Alabama with a rush, showing a great improved defense and stinging the pill opportunely, but Wednesday sky high went the whole crew and the leatherlungers in the bleachers could shut their lamps and see visions of an old game on the back lots.

To the casual spectator the first impression was that a track meet was in progress and when the dust cleared the Gadsden tossers were woefully short of ozone, the locals had put their gloves on their feet and the umps was weary from hauling his bulk around behind base runners.

Manager Hill tried to anchor his ascending crew in the fifth, sending in Robinson to relieve Roberts, but there was too much elevation to his bunch, and on went the comedy.

TODAY

NASHVILLE, May 22.—Montgomery opened a three game series here with Nashville this afternoon, the weather permitting. The morning was cloudy with showers.

Nashville's battery is scheduled to be McManus and Noyes. Montgomery's battery will probably be Manning and Gribbens.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 22.—Memphis is in Birmingham and weather permitting, a large attendance is expected at the first game of the series this afternoon. A double victory over Mobile yesterday has caused much enthusiasm here. Batteries today are Foxen and Mayer for Birmingham, and Harrel and Seabough for Memphis. Weather cloudy.

CHATTANOOGA, May 22.—New Orleans and Chattanooga play the first game of the series at 3:45 o'clock this afternoon. The weather is warm and threatening. Chattanooga, Dygert or Hunt and Street; New Orleans, Swindell and Angermein.

Bunched Hits As Dent Tired Won Game 7-5

New Flinger Showed Up Well for Six Rounds—Looks to Be Good Man and With Work Will Round Into Form

Elliot Dent, Atlanta's new twirler, was allowed to occupy the mound against the Memphis Turtles just a bit too long and Memphis took the third game of the series. Five runs in the seventh did the work. The final count was 7 to 5.

During the first six innings Dent went like a house afire. In the first five innings but fifteen players faced him and in the sixth four came up, making nineteen for six innings. Now, this is some baseball, but to blow in the seventh is something else.

The whole trouble with Dent seemed to be that he tired. *He has been sit*ting on the bench with the Washington team all season and Wednesday's game was his first workout. Naturally his arm was not timed to go too full route. But at that he looks mighty good, and should plug a big hole in the Cracker hurling staff.

Parsons hurled for Memphis and while he didn't appear to take his work very seriously he managed to get away. But at that it was through luck. Atlanta had thirteen runners left on the bags, some Cracker getting on the sacks in every inning but the fifth and eighth. In the ninth Rube Kissinger was called in to relieve Parsons. Manager Bernhard fearing the Crackers might start a rally.

The game was truly an Atlanta loss. By scoring five runs in the first four innings the Crackers got away to a fine start and held a 5-0 lead until the sixth, when Memphis rallied once. In the seventh the Turtles came back with five and the lead was taken away from the local crew.

In the seventh, when the Turtles won the game, the first three Memphis players who faced Dent singled and then an error put one more on, after which Butler tripled and Shanley singled. Then it was all off, and Dent was taken out of the box. Price succeeded him and hurled good ball, fanning two men in a row, while the third was thrown out trying to steal.

Pat Graham was somewhat around. He got two hits and the way he threw to the bags was worth the time of anyone. His arm seemed to be working in the best shape of the year.

Shortstop Bisland also continues to do grand work. His easy throw after getting the ball shows him up to be a real ball player. And he is very fast on the *comin*g in on drives, always playing, the ball just so he will get his man by one or two steps.

GOOD CROWD PRESENT AT AD MEN'S GAME.

At the Wednesday game between the Atlanta and Memphis teams, which was controlled by the Ad Men's club, there were 2,700 paid admissions. This is an excellent week day crowd and showed that the people of the city are with the boosters, who are raising money to make the trip to the annual meeting at Baltimore.

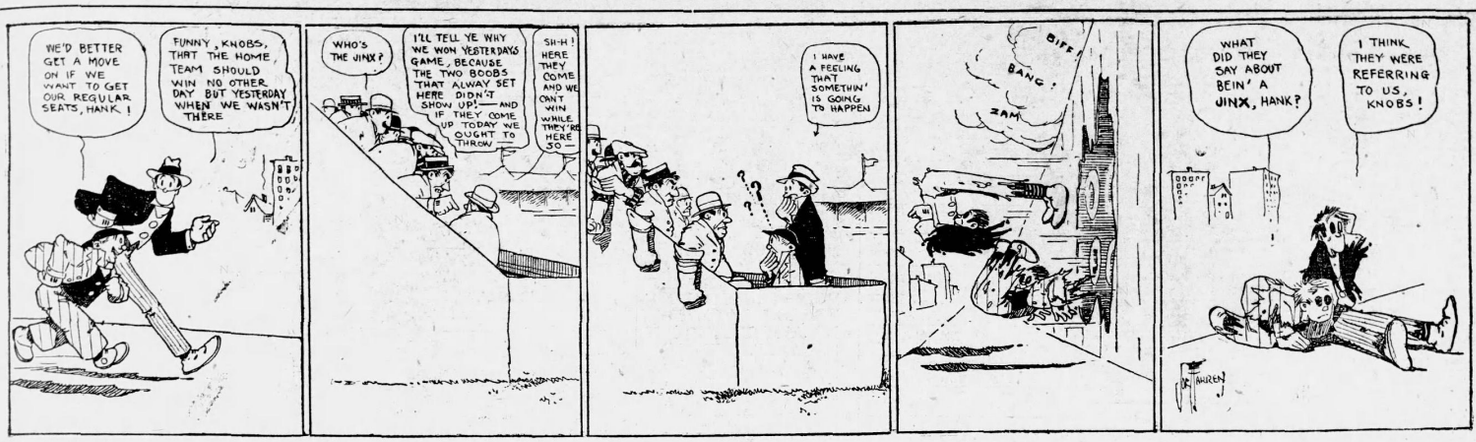
HANK AND KNOBS GO FOR THEIR REGULAR SEAT---BUT! BY FARREN



WE'D BETTER GET A MOVE ON IF WE WANT TO GET OUR REGULAR SEATS, HANK!
FUNNY, KNOBS, THAT THE HOME TEAM SHOULD WIN NO OTHER DAY BUT YESTERDAY WHEN WE WASN'T THERE WHO'S THE JINX?
I'LL TELL YE WHY WE WON YESTERDAYS GAME, BECAUSE THE TWO BOOBS THAT ALWAY SET HERE DIDN'T SHOW UP!—AND IF THEY COME UP TODAY WE OUGHT TO THROW
SH-H! HERE THEY COME AND WE CAN'T WIN WHILE THEY'RE HERE SO—I HAVE A FEELING THAT SOMETHIN' IS GOING TO HAPPEN

BANG!
ZAM!
WHAT DID THEY SAY ABOUT BEIN' A JINX, HANK?

BEYOND THE GAME.

We may not see beyond the Game—
What waits across the Final Score;
Nor know what phantom dreams acclaim
The future league that lies in store;

No football comes—no given sign—
No beckoning—no backward glance
Where Fame's dead roses guard the line
Beyond which Life may not advance.

We may not look into the sleep
Where lilies lean across the day—
How broken there—how long or deep
Where life's lost winds kneel down to pray;

For knowing—we might find the sting
To take all heart from valiant strife;
Or, death's Gray League too dear a thing
To give one other day to Life.

THE TRUST-BUSTERS.

We understand the bill against the baseball trust has been buried waist deep in committee. If it is ever revived again one glance at a certain name in both Standings of the Clubs will show said committee exactly where to impart the first official blow.

Frank Chance, batting for two men in one inning, tore off a victory. But some fans are never satisfied. One writes in to know just why the P.L. can't bat for all nine of his men and blow himself to another pennant.

But Mr. Murphy still insists thart he intends to dig up a cluster of new slabmen at once.

TECHNICAL IS PROPER.

In other words the Cub magnate is now in a highly technical position —highly technical being the only proper phrase. He has two of the greatest receivers in baseball—with little or nothing to receive. What does it profit a mogul to have the greatest catcher in the world where only one per cent of thrown balls manages to reach the catcher's waiting love.

Back in March Mr. Murphy deftly opined that "pitching strength wasn't everything to a ball club, anyway." Probably not. But just the same he can now appreciate the logic of the old Pickwickian melody—viz.—

"Stone walls do not a prison make?
Bah—what tommyrot;
They may not make the prison
But they help an awful lot."

Why all this talk about Johnson being the greatest pitcher of the game, writes in J. K. F. "What else has he got besides speed?" What else has A. Carnegie got besides $400,000,000? Not a cent in the world.

THE CLEVELAND UPLIFT.

The order must have changed in Cleveland after all, despite the recent flood of accidents.

Charley Somers, proprietor of the Naps, dropped into town a day or two ago. Despite the fact that Lajoie had a brace of cracked fingers and Birmingham was hobbling on a shattered leg the Cleveland mogul could barly be restrained from giving three cheers.

"We have a regular ball club now," he announced, "and that means a ball club that isn't to be stopped by one or two losses. In the old days we curled up under the first mishap. Now the bunch is out there fighting harder than ever. Birmingham has not only made good but several doubtful propositions have come through far beyond our hopes. Whether we win this season or not the old days of Cleveland baseball are gone and this means a start at least."

In so far as world series ambitions are concerned we have but one or two left. One is to see Nap Lajoie in one at least—after seventeen years' service. The other is to see Walter Johnson turned loose in a seven-game series, keyed up to the exact angle. Cobb, Walsh, Wagner, Mathewson, Baker, etc., have had their splash, the other two haven't—and both are due.

BASEBALL TICKET COMING TO YOU

The above picture was made at Wednesday's game at Ponce de Leon, and if the man to whom the arrow points can recognize himself and bring paper to Journal office he will get a ticket to one of the big games at the local field. Everybody is getting the habit of closely watching for the fan picture each day, and The Journal always has a guest at the games.

Formwalt Wins School Honors

Although he outbatted and outpitched his opponents yesterday in the championship game of the Public School league, Smith, of the Edgewood team, went down in defeat before the efforts of his teammates and the Formwalt team. Smith has been the real star of these games for the deciding of the city school championship, and in yesterday's game he was going good. He struck out ten men, gave up only five hits and got three hits out of three times up. His teammates errored ten times, and the Formwalt boys got by with the big end.

Wallace also pitched good ball, and though he was hit hard in the first part of the game, he settled down and kept the hits pretty well scattered the rest of the time, finally winning the game and the championship by the score of 7 to 6.

Formwalt will receive a silver loving cup from the amateur federation and a pennant from Shelley Ivey. Edgewood will also receive a pennant from Mr. Ivey for being the north side winners.

Sunday Games For Nashville

NASHVILLE, Tenn., May 22.—Following a recent decision of the supreme court declaring the anti-Sunday baseball law unconstitutional, arrangements have been made to play the first Sunday game of the season here with Chattanooga on May 25. The announcement was made today by the local ball club and is causing both favorable and unfavorable comment.

Several Sunday games were played last year in violation of the law, the teams being arrested on each occasion.

On Monday the Britishers by scoring 21 to 0 made one of the largest scores ever seen on an American polo field. Playing a faster game Wednesday they won out by only one and a quarter goals. The score was England 5 3-4 goals, Piping Rock 4 1-2 goals.

Polo Outfit At Practice

(By Associated Press.)

PHILADELPHIA, May 22.—The all-Philadelphia polo team which is to meet the English poloists here on Saturday, was chosen last night by the Philadelphia polo committee. W. H. T. Huhn will play No. 1, Alfred M. Collins, No. 2, M. G. Rosengarten, No. 3, and Alexander Brown, back. Mr. Huhn's mallet work has been one of the sensations of the present season in this city.

Messrs. Collins and Rosengarten play brilliant polo on the first troop, Philadelphia City cavalry, and Mr. Brown has twice been a member of the Bryn Mawr teams, winners of the junior championship of the United States.

The English team which is in this country preparing for the international matches is expected to arrive tomorrow at Bryn Mawr, where they will have at their disposal twenty fast ponies selected from the ninety offered for their use in Saturday's match by Philadelphia players. The game will be played at the Philadelphia Country club. Accommodations for 20,000 spectators have been provided.

Playing Uphill Game Yale Again Winner

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 22.—Yale, playing a fine uphill game defeated Brown in an exciting contest, 6 to 4, making the sixteenth consecutive victory for the blue and the second win over Brown this season. Brown started off with a rush, sending four runs over the plate in the initial inning. Yale came back with two in the second and in the fifth added four more runs.

Start Golf Tourney

WASHINGTON, May 22.—With a field of 131 starters the championship tournament of the Middle Atlantic Golf association was staged today on the links of the Columbia Country club. Rain last night made the course heavy but the contestants were evenly paired and the sport promised to be excellent.

Seven additional entries were received by the club officials at the last moment making some repairing necessary but this caused virtually no delay.

POULTRY, PIGEONS AND LIVE STOCK

Some Breeders Who Have Made Poultry Raising Profitable

KIMBALLVILLE FARM is another splendidly equipped poultry, pigeon, and dairy, as well as floral establishment near Atlanta, and while this place was principally started for recreation and pleasure in connection with the Kimball House a large and growing business has been built up from a small start of pigeons on the roof of the Kimball House in few years ago, and today Kimballville Farm has a flock of White Orpingtons, White Leghorns, Indian Runner ducks, squab breeding pigeons; a herd of Jersey cattle, a herd of Berkshire hogs, and a floral establishment that any one should feel proud of. It is one of the show places around Atlanta, and an afternoon can be profitably and pleasantly spent inspecting the sights of this place.

To a certain extent these different establishments and the interest that has gradually grown in this work all over Georgia has been the direct cause of being established in Atlanta possibly the largest and best equipped poultry plant in the world, now owned by Mr. Asa G. Candler, Jr., in Druid Hills, near Kimballville Farm. This plant possibly represents an outlay of some $200,000, and I doubt if there is a better equipped place in the world. With 1 hatching capacity of 26,000 eggs, and breeding pens that will accommodate 15,000 grown birds and 10,000 to 25,000 young ones makes this one of the most complete poultry plants in the entire country. Fresh eggs and fat, plump broilers are made a specialty of at this plant. In addition to this possibly the best collections of Orpingtons ever brought to gether in the United States can be found on this farm. It is a revelation to any one to visit this plant, and there are but few people in this country who realize what a big thing it is and what it is worth to Atlanta to have established in its suburbs such a object lesson and a school of education where any one in a few days see and get knowledge and information from visiting this plant that it would take a life time to gain otherwise. Mr. Candler has secured Mr. May to manage and have done the detail work connected with this great establishment. He is a live, wide-awake, energetic man and everything shows that he knows his business and keeps things moving day and night around this plant.

In addition to these there are many successful breeders' establishments over the state and the work that they are doing in distributing good blood and creating an interest that will eventually help others is tremendous. There is not one of these places but that has so attracted the teention of different ones that they have brought the section in which they are located to the notice of the public, and to a large extent the rapid development and the upbuilding, especially in Druid Hills in the residential neighborhood of Kimballville Farm, the interest in real estate and improvements and increase value of property in this section can be traced to a certain extent to the notoriety given this section by the many visitors that have been attracted by this place that probably would have never been done if they had not been located in this section. The same can be said of the large plant that is established at Lackawanna Springs, near Jacksonville, Fla. It was and is today a revelation to the people of the state. It attracts the attention of hundreds of people who visit this plant. Every feet of land in the adjoining neighborhood has been cut up in city lots and sold, although it is sixteen miles from Jacksonville and handsome residences are now being constructed throughout this territory. Things of this kind, while they look little to many they have an influence that in dollars and cents can never be estimated, and the poultry industry from a business standpoint is doing its share towards the development and upbuilding the entire United States probably faster than any other one line of work. It is yet in its infancy and thre is no telling eventually what the American hen will bring forth in dollars and cents to the nation in more ways than besides producing meat and eggs.

Rours very truly,

Lowry Dye

FOR SALE—REAL ESTATE FOR SALE—REAL ESTATE

SIX NEW BUNGALOWS AND SIXTEEN BUILDING LOTS AT AUCTION

Saturday, May 24th, 3 P. M.

IN THE Tenth ward on Warner street, and Allene and Woodrow avenues. Just two blocks from the splendid car service to East Point, College Park, and Hapeville. Also convenient to the Stewart avenue car line.

THIS property is in a rapidly growing section, close to the new $40,000 "Adair" Public school, and only two blocks from Adair Park.

ONE of Atlanta's best citizens, Mr. I. N. Ragsdale has developed this property, sparing neither time nor money to bring this property to a point of desirability that would make it acceptable to the better class of citizens for homes.

WITH this purpose uppermost in mind, he has built six very attractive bungalows. Built them of good material and with day labor, exercising good taste and rare good judgment in all the details of arrangement, and construction. These are not the usual "built to sell" articles.

EACH house has a small loan, which the purchaser assumes as part of the price. The balance will be paid in small monthly payments without interest. A small cash payment will be required, ranging from $100 to $250. This is an unusually easy arrangement that should appeal to every buyer of a home.

THE lots will be sold on very easy terms, with 6 per cent simple interest.

THE lots lie particularly well, many of them having nice shade. They will make desirable and valuable home sites. Several of them have the added value of two street fronts.

Take East Point or College Park cars. Get off at Gammages. A big sign will direct you to the property. Get plats from PLACE YOUR SPARE CASH TO ADVANTAGE.

Now that the grading of Whitehall is passed up, by all the rules of reason we believe the future of Whitehall is assured, even down as far as the Park street railroad crossing. If such is the case, and it certainly seems more than a possibility, yes, even a probability, would not an investment in a lot 75x160 feet to Central of Ga. R. R., at $50.00 per foot less than the adjoining property, be placing cash at advantage? Or, a corner this side of Forsyth street junction where frontage is $600 per foot, if we can sell it for $500 per front foot, be placing cash to advantage?

A HOME FOR A COUNTRY GENTLEMAN OF SMALL MEANS.

IF YOU are a man of small means and want a country home, how about 70x400 feet of fruit and chicken farm, without a rough place in the ground and with a good house on it and right on the South Decatur car line for $2,250.00, on easy terms. After this is gone you'll regret it if you are not the man.

Steel Derricks Are Placed in the Excavation of the Healey Building and Caps Are Being Laid to Support the Big Steel Columns—Applications Already Made for Space—Ponce de Leon Apartment House Brings $30,000

Two big steel derricks were in place in the excavation for the Healey building on Thursday, and a gang of steel men were at work. The construction of the building will be pushed rapidly.

The force on Thursday was putting the caps in place which will support the big steel columns. Practically all the steel needed in the construction of the building is on hand.

A large crowd gathered on the sidewalks around the excavation and watched the operation of the derricks.

Several applications have already been made for space in the building, which will not be finished for about a year. The building will be sixteen stories above the sidewalk, occupying a frontage of 200 feet on Forsyth street opposite the postoffice, and 100 feet on Walton and Poplar streets. It is Mr. Healey's intention, eventually to cover the entire block.

APARTMENTS ARE SOLD.

Turman, Black & Calhoun have sold for Mrs. M. B. McCerren to T. S. Wilkins the three-story brick apartment building at No. 101 Ponce de Leon avenue. The price was $30,000.

The building contains three apartments bringing an aggregate rental of $5,000 a year. The lot is 55x257, and is at the southeast corner of Myrtle street.

WE HAVE FOR TRADE FOR ATLANTA PROPERTY a 400-acre farm in Bartow county, two miles from Kingston. This farm fronts on the W. & A. road and is well improved, and is a fine cotton and grain farm. It has a beautiful 16-room colonial house that cost something like $7,500 or more to build it. Has barn and tenant houses. Outside of this being one of the best farms in that section, it is full of minerals, consisting of cement rock, in a large quantity. It has been tested and is of the very best quality of cement. Has bauxite, pyrites, fine brown iron ore and manganese iron ore. This being right on the railroad makes it a very valuable piece of property. We have a party now wanting to lease this on a royalty of 65 cents a ton for bauxite and 15 cents for the cement and iron ore. The party that owns this is unable to look after it and will exchange it for some Atlanta property. U. P. ASSEMBLY ADJOURNS TO MEET IN NEWCASTLE

Moderator Thankful That "Fool That Rocks the Boat" Has Not Been Present

The unruffled calm that has marked practically every moment of the session of the United Presbyterian assembly at the Central Presbyterian church, gave way to tearful evidences of appreciation of foreign mission work just before the assembly adjourned Thursday afternoon.

Stories of sacrifices and deeds of heroism in the foreign fields were told by missionaries themselves, while men and women wept without restraint.

After the final roll call it was stated that the expense of the assembly in paying for the railway transportation of commissioners totaled $10,614.20.

After a parting message from the moderator, in which he offered thanks that "the fool that rocks the boat" has been absent from this assembly, the commissioners disbanded shortly after 1 o'clock.

The next assembly will meet in Newcastle, Pa., on May 27, 1914.

"GREAT FORWARD STEP."

What Moderator Robert M. Russell termed "the greatest forward step in the history of the church" was taken by the United Presbyterian Assembly Thursday morning in the organization of the "missionary and efficiency committee," one of the chief duties of which will be to act as a clearing house for all of the funds of the church.

The new committee absorbs the ways and means committee which has been in effect for the past fifty years and the comparatively new "million dollar committee."

It is the outgrowth of a meeting of representatives of the boards held in Pittsburg on March 20 last, and was launched on the recommendation of the conference on boards.

The "missionary and efficiency committee" will be composed of representatives of each of the boards of the church.

WHAT IT WILL DO.

In addition to cultivating a spirit of liberality along the lines of Christian stewardship, the new committee proposes to organize and direct, annually, an effective "every member" canvass for funds, and to see that pledges are not only paid promptly, but forwarded without delay to their proper destination.

Congregational treasurers will be required to remit all mission funds to the financial agents of their respective presbyteries during the week following the last Sabbath in the month.

In turn, the financial agents must remit to the "missionary and efficiency committee" on the tenth of each month, and this committee must remit to the treasurers of the various boards on the twentieth of each month, all funds received.

Provision is made for the publication monthly of detailed statements of all funds received and paid out.

The committee recommending the new committee is composed of W. E. McCulloch, W. R. Sawhill, D. Glenn Moore, J. H. Stavely, and A. H. Calderwood.

ITS MEMBERSHIP.

The new committee will consist of the following ministers and business men from the various boards, who will serve terms of from one to three years as designated:

From committee on appropriations, Rev. C. R. Watson, one year; Rev. M. G. Kyle and George Inness, two years; F. O. Shang, three years.

Board of home missions, Rev. W. E. Purse, one year; Rev. J. Reed, two years and Samuel Young, three years.

Board of freedmen's missions, Rev. J. A. Duff, one year.

Board of church extension, Rev. M. M. Patterson, two years.

Board of publication, Rev. John McNaugher, one year.

Board of ministerial relief, Rev. J. C. Scoulier, three years.

Church at large, Rev. G. E. Raitt, one year; W. W. Miller, two years, and J. J. Porter, three years.

MOTTO FOR THE YEAR.

The assembly began its closing session Thursday morning by adopting as its motto for the coming year: "The world for Christ and a tithe of our incomes for missions."

On the motion of Dr. John A. Wilson, of Pittsburg, the new motto supplants the old watchword of "Twenty-five thousand souls for Christ,a million dollars for missions."

Dr. R. J. Miller, of Pittsburg, telegraphed the assembly his resignation as editor of the Christian Union Herald, the official publication which was criticized in the report of the publication committee on the allegation that it had disobeyed the instructions of the general assembly.

On the ground that no fault had been attached to Dr. Miller, the assembly refused to accept his resignation.

Dr. Miller's work was indorsed in the report of the publication committee.

NO DECISION GIVEN IN HUFF CONTEMPT CASE

Judge W. I. Grubb Takes Matter Under Advisement and Leaves for Birmingham

MACON, Ga., May 22.—Judge W. I. Grubb, of Birmingham, Ala., who is presiding over the contempt proceedings against Colonel W. A. Huff, did not render a decision in the case today, but took the matter under advisement. He took a copy of the record in the case, together with the two rebuking letters written by Colonel Huff to Judge Emory Speer, to Birmingham with him and will announce his decision from there.

If Judge Grubb holds that Colonel Huff is guilty of contempt, he will come back to Macon to announce his decision and to sentence Colonel Huff. If he decides that Colonel Huff is not guilty, he will send a copy of the decision to the clerk of the court here.

Colonel Huff took the stand this morning in his own behalf. He testified that he did not intend to influence any decision of Judge Speer, but wrote to him as an individual. Colonel Huff also stated that he felt that instead of causing any decision favorable to him, it would cause the judge to be against him.

Hon. T. S. Felder, attorney for Colonel Huff, made a powerful argument for Colonel Huff, contending that the liberty of the citizen was as great as the sanctity of the court, and that it would be a bad day in this country when a citizen is restrained from expressing his opinion of the courts or the government.

Mr. Felder further argued that public officials re subject to criticism, and unless they could stand criticism they should not hold public office. Judge Grubb stated that he would announce his decision within a very short time.

District Attorney Oliver D. Street, of the northern Alabama district, conducted the government's case.

A great crowd attended the trial today, expecting that the court would render an opinion in the case.

JAPANESE EMPEROR HAS BECOME SUDDENLY ILL

Yoshihito Suffers From Inflammation of the Lungs and High Fever

(By Associated Press.)

TOKIO, May 22.—Emperor Yoshihito, of Japan, was taken ill today. The physicians in attendance declare that he is suffering from inflammation of the lungs.

Emperor Yoshihito is in a state of high fever. Eight court physicians are in constant attendance on him.

The emperor of Japan succeeded his father in July, 1912. He is in his thirty-fourth year and has three sons, the eldest of whom is Crown Prince Hirohito, just twelve years old.

The emperor has previously suffered from lung ailments. During an attack in 1908 his condition was very serious.

The emperor caught a slight cold on May 18, but it was announced it was unimportant and that his majesty would soon resume his activities.

Tonight the nation was shocked by the issue of this official bulletin from the imperial palace signed by the eight court physicians:

"The emperor, who has been suffering from a slight cold, developed inflammation of the lungs today. We don't consider his condition justifies anxiety, but his temperature is high."

THIS INTERESTS EVERY WOMAN.

A family doctor said recently that women come to him thinking that they have female trouble, but when he treats them for their kidneys and bladder they soon recover. This is worth knowing, and also that Foley Kidney Pills are the best and safest medicine for backache, weary, dragged-out feeling, aching joints, irregular kidney and bladder action and nervousness due to kidney troubles. Try them. They are tonic in action, quick in results. For sale by all dealers.—(Advt.)

Emperor William, Emperor Nicholas and King George, after the customary embraces, reviewed the guest of honor together.

King George and Emperor Nicholas are so remarkably alike in appearance that it was difficult even for those familiar with both monarchs to identify them except by the different uniforms they wore. Both were dressed as Prussian officers of their respective regiments, of which they are honorary colonels.

One of the waiting rooms at the station had been converted into a dressing room in order to facilitate the repeated changes of uniform which have to be made by Emperor William, when he meets his royal guests.

The luncheon of the royal guests at the castle today developed into an informal celebration of the silver wedding of Prince Henry, of Prussia, the brother of Emperor William, who married the Princess Irene of Hesse, on May 24, 1888.

King George displayed his interest in sport by attending the races at the Grunewald track this afternoon.

A state dinner is to be given at the castle this evening, at which all the royal and imperial guests will be present.

No Prospects of War, Declares Adam Bede

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

WAYCROSS, Ga., May 22.—"There is little prospects of Japan going to war wit hthe United States because of the differences that have arisen over the anti-alien land law in California," said former Congressman Adam Bede, of Minnesota, in Waycross today. He is here en route to Savannah to take part in a debate in that city with former Mayor Seidel, a Socialist of Milwaukee.

Mr. Bede is satisfied the United States will not hold back a bit in fighting in event the Japanese get nasty about the California matter, and says our country will whip the Japanese with ease.

"Japan is too poor to fight us, and there is not a nation anywhere that is as strong as we are," he said, "and if war is declared the majority of our people will know very little of it, as the fighting will be carried on with no inconvenience to our vast country."

California Japanese Urged To Trust U. S. Government

SAN FRANCISCO, May 22.—Cool headedness and moderation were urged upon the Japanese residents of California at a mass meeting last night, by Soroku Ehara, a member of the house of peers and of the government party and one of the commission sent to this state to investigate the landholding controversy.

The venerable statesman pointed out that it was the unanimous desire of the people of his country to reach a satisfactory settlement and it undoubtedly could be accomplished by peaceable means.

"The relations between the two countries, he said, had been such in the past as to preclude the possibility of any but an amicable adjustment.

"The whole of Japan—the government, the political parties and the commercial bodies is unanimously endeavoring to solve this California question peacefully," he said. "And it seems to me the Japanese government is fully competent to settle this difficulty satisfactorily. There is absolutely no need for you to pack up your things to go back to Japan in fear of something happening.

"California is only one part of this great country after all. Fortunately for you, you have the sympathy of the federal government and a greater part of the citizens of this country. Even in California you have a great many supporters and sympathizers.

"I have always admired the American people for their greatness—for their sense of justice and fair play. With these qualities in mind you must wait patiently. Attend to your work and business as usual without any fear.

"You are now as though on a ship on a stormy sea. But the captain is commanding the ship. Trust your destiny to him. The ship cannot be directed by everybody."

Ayao Hattori, another member of the commission, which came to inquire into conditions here, addressing the mass meeting, said:

"Japan entered into treaty relations with the United States after the persistent persuasion of Commodore Perry. In their first treaty Japan and the United States agreed that each country should be entitled to free immigration into the other. By that invitation we came here, trusting our lives and property into the hands of the American people.

"In one respect we have more freedom in this country than in others. White or negro may marry with the Japanese without interference on the part of the law.

"The gentlemanly agreement of 1907 was strictly observed by Japan, and no fault was to be found with that country.

"We believe the United States government will solve the present question according to the principles of justice and uhmanity."

About 4,000 Japanese attended the mass meeting.

Kansas City Negroes Try to Lynch One Of Their Own Color

(By Associated Press.)

KANSAS CITY, May 22.—A mob of 500 negroes surrounded the Flora avenue police station in the negro quarters of Kansas City today, howling for the death of Wesley Robinson, one of their race, who last night confessed, the police say, to slaying his wife and daughter with a hatchet last Saturday night. After a determined stand by the police the negro was hustled through the mob to a motor car and carried to police headquarters.

The negroes, armed with clubs, approached the station and one of their number was sent in to demand that Robinson be turned over for them to "deal" with. A squad of police was sent from headquarters, but when it arrived the emissary had been thrown into the street and the patrolmen regularly stationed at the precinct office had, with drawn revolvers, cowed the mob.

Jennie Hill, a negress, whom, in his confession Robinson is said to have implicated in the murders, was confined in the women's cells in the same police station. Her screams could he heard above the mob's cries.

STOLEN HORSE RETURNED BEFORE OWNER MISSED IT

Caught in the act of attempting to trade a horse which they declare he had just stolen from W. V. Zimmer's farm t Kimballville, Kelly Holder, a white boy, twenty-one years old, was sent to the Tower early Thursday morning by County Officers Pope and Whitford.

The officers came upon the young fellow as he was bagging one of the horse traders at the Bellwood camp to take the horse for $35. The county men knew at a glance that so much bargain is offered these days in horse flesh, unless there is something wrong. As a matter of fact, Mr. Zimmer would not take less than $200 for the animal. The boy was taken in tow and made to tell where he had gotten the animal. He said he worked for Mr. Zimmer and had ridden the horse off before daybreak. The horse was returned to Mr. Zimmer before he had missed it.

PHAGAN CASE WILL GO TO GRAND JURY AT 10 A. M. FRIDAY

study of finger print identification methods.

He declares that while here he will try to induce local bankers to adopt his finger print method of identification of depositors, which is now in use in a number of cities in the east. Flak gave some remarkable demonstrations Wednesday of his ability to identify finger prints.

MANY HANDLED THEM.

Friends of the expert say that had he been called into the case at the first he undoubtedly would have been able to eliminate any innocent suspect. Now, however, the notes found by Mary Phagan's body are so old and have been handled by so many people that it is probably that any marks of the original writer have been eliminated. By sprinkling a certain powdered preparation over a sheet of paper, Flak raises the finger prints, which he readily identifies.

Flak came here at the request of C. Irvine Walker and Austin B. Higdon, of the Southeastern Banker, and probably will remain in the city for several days.

Interesting in connection with Mr. Flak's work on the case is the statement of C. W. Tobie, the Burns' investigator, that one of the features of the case which he has informed had been *overlooked, was an effort to get the slay*er's finger and shoe prints.

NOTES IN A BANK NOW.

Of so much value are the two notes found by Mary Phagan's body in the basement of the National Pencil factory considered to the state, that they now are in a safety deposit vault in a local bank, instead of repeating in the solicitor's office, where 'evidences" usually is placed.

*Mr. Flak made a number of experi*ments at the bank with the notes, and later he went to the solicitor's office, where he "raised" prints of the fingers of Leo M. Frank and Newt Lee, which he is said to have obtained at the tower.

The Burns' investigator declares that he has found several leads which he hopes will prove of value. But he will make no direct statement about the reported finding of a new and important witness in the case.

COLONEL FELDER PLEASED

Colonel Thomas B. Felder, who employed the Burns agency to help ferret out the mystery, declares that he is well satisfied with the progress Investigator Tobie has made.

"Of course," says Mr. Felder, "Mr. Tobie has developed a number of matters of importance, which cannot be made public at this time. I have every confidence in his ability ultimately to solve the mystery.

"My confidence in him has been increased as the result of his few days' work."

Relative to the fund which Mr. Felder is raising by public subscription to pay the detectives, he says it is growing slowly.

"We have enough" he says, "to keep Mr. Tobie on the job for some time, but if he doesn't secure sufficient evidence to convict by the time William J. Burns returns from Europe, I hope the fund will be sufficiently increased to bring Burns himself here. Burns has never failed in a case where he took charge in person, and if the people want to see little Mary Phagan's murderer punished, I urge that they send in their subscriptions to the fund."
